General Strike Called In Rome By Communists

Wave Of Communist Violence Strikes Many Towns And Cities In Italy

LEADERS DECLARE REVOLT SQUASHED

(BULLETIN)

ROME, Nov. 15.—(INS)—A general strike was called in Rome today in a Communist-led protest to the arrest of a trolley conductor while a wave of Communist violence struck at 106 Italian cities and towns.

A mob of more than 1,000 Communists assaulted the Carabinieri barracks in the Tuscan city of Ghisi in an effort to liberate five former Italian partisans held on a murder charge.

The Communists were beaten back by heavy police reinforcements. The Ghisi Chamber of Labor called a general strike to support the Communist demand that the prisoners, accused of murdering five policemen be freed.

Strike Call In Rome

The strike call in the capital came despite efforts by officials to explain the conductor's arrest. It occurred when Communist agitators—including the conductor—mistook a public meeting for an Italian social movement demonstration.

Police forestalled an attempt by the Communists to break up the meeting and make the arrest. The meeting which the Communists sought to disperse was of Italian prisoners of war returned from Russia.

Right-wing newspapers did not appear today as publishers refused to adhere to a printers' ultimatum that they print a leftist order-of-the-day demanding suppression of "Neo-Fascist" organizations.

The printers retaliated by refusing to set type.

Revolt Threat Squashed
The ministry of the interior indicated that the threat of Communist revolution which loomed over the country was definitely squashed despite the widespread violence.

Communist-provoked riots broke out anew in several Italian cities and police in Florence and Cre-

Freedom-Friendship Trains To Cross Paths

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The Freedom train and the Friendship train, the nation's rolling symbols of liberty and goodwill, will cross paths tomorrow in Harrisburg.

The trains, both bearing precious cargoes, were scheduled to meet on adjoining tracks at Pennsylvania's state capital coincident with their transcontinental journey.

The red, white and blue seven-car streamliner carrying more than 100 priceless records of the United States freedom heritage will arrive early tomorrow to exhibit historic documents to more than 10,000 persons.

The Friendship train, speeding from the West Coast with more than 100 carloads of food for hungry Europe, was slated to pull into Harrisburg later in the day. Five freight cars of food will be added to the growing cargo.

Senate G.O.P. Leaders Confer On Foreign Aid

By FRANK B. ALLEN (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The senate Republican leadership today pointed its tax policy toward offsetting the inflationary effects of the Marshall plan.

After a senate GOP policy committee meeting, Chairman Taft (R-Ohio), declared that expenditures for foreign aid should be paid out of taxes to avoid new inflationary pressure.

However, Taft said that a pay-as-you-go policy on the Marshall plan does not foreclose the chance of tax reductions.

The GOP policy committee, which gave interim aid legislation priority in the special session, also agreed on a program to open the way for quick action on price curbs.

Taft estimated that within three weeks his joint economy committee and the house and senate banking committees will have some anti-inflation legislation ready.

Another GOP leader said the leadership will try to keep the interim aid bill from bogging down in a fight over the long-range Marshall plan, and if it is successful, the bill might be hurried through within a week or two.

Taft said that the GOP policy group will try to discourage other legislation in the meantime.

Charge Against Maj. Gen. Meyers Again Repeated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Neil McCarthy, former vice president for Howard Hughes, repeated under oath today his charge that Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers asked him for a $50,000 down payment on a post-war job with the millionaire plane builder.

McCarthy also supported Hughes' own testimony that Meyers unsuccessfully sought a $200,000 loan with which to buy government bonds.

Meyers, who denied McCarthy's previous closed-session testimony and demanded that the gray-haired attorney testify in an open hearing, faced his principal accuser in today's session.

McCarthy told the committee he advised Hughes that he thought it was "wrong" to consider taking a procurement officer out of government service during the war. He said Hughes agreed and instructed him to convey the refusal to Meyers.

New Infirmary Open At College

Westminster Infirmary Provided By Erection Of Government Surplus Building

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 15.—An eleven bed infirmary is now in operation at Westminster College in one of the three government surplus buildings moved here from a military installation.

There are two wards of five beds each. There is also an isolation room, a pharmacy treatment room, office, waiting room, kitchenette and living quarters for two nurses.

Dr. R. Ross Houston is director of the health program while the nurses' staff is composed of four. The infirmary will be open 24 hours a day.

Under the Student Health Service plan each student is entitled to 10 days of hospitalization as a bed patient in the infirmary during the academic year without charge. After he has had an accumulation of 10 days he will be expected to pay $3 per day.

Special Session Of Congress To Convene Monday—President To Speak

MANY PROBLEMS ARE FORESEEN

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The House Republican leadership may ignore Secretary of State Marshall's recommendation and back creation of an independent agency to handle both stop-gap aid and long-range assistance for Europe.

This became known today as Republican leaders began converging on Washington for Monday's reconvening of Congress when President Truman will speak.

E. & A. Veterans Assemble Here

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Dinner Event At The Castleton Today

Veterans of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Erie & Ashtabula division enjoyed their 25th anniversary dinner today at noon in the Castleton hotel. From Linesville, Pa., to Alliance, O., they were present, meeting old friends, living over old times, and enjoying every minute of it.

The dinner opened with everybody singing "America" directed by Morgan Jones. The banquet followed and a memorial service to the veterans who have died followed. V. C. Smith was the master of ceremonies.

Twenty-nine veterans of the E. & A. have died in the past year. Men who served the Pennsylvania for many years. Men like Percy H. Lavarack, J. W. Flansburg and the others. Their lives and service were memorialized in a simple, impressive service.

Officers Elected
Officers were elected to serve for the coming year. Charles W. Fleming was named president of the association.

Truman To Send Congress Message On Marshall Plan

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—President Truman will send an emergency message to the special session of Congress within the next 10 days presenting in its entirety the Marshall plan for long-range economic aid of Western Europe.

The chief executive has decided not to wait until the regular session of Congress convenes early in January to lay the world recovery proposals before the legislators.

This was learned on unimpeachable authority today as the president, with his top advisers, completed the message he will deliver in person to the joint session of Congress at 1:30 p. m. (EST) Monday.

Monday's message will ask for $97 million dollars in stopgap aid for Western European countries and a plan to control basic commodities and roll back current inflated prices.

Klein said that he would offer his resolution Monday at the opening of the special session of congress. He explained that the measure would give the president the same authority to combat inflation as the original price control act.

Some Soviet Satellites Look To Marshall Plan

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Diplomatic sources expressed belief today that some Russian satellite countries have more faith in the Marshall plan than they do in the Soviet program to create an economic bloc in Europe.

These sources explained that their conclusions are based on recent statements by representatives of the Russian satellite states. They pointed to the visit of Czechoslovakian Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk with Secretary of State Marshall.

Masaryk, after a long talk with Marshall, made it clear that his government, now under Soviet domination though nominally independent, looks to the United States for aid. He also predicted general benefits for all of Europe if the Marshall plan succeeds.

The Czech leader's remarks caused some concern among pro-Russian elements. It was recalled that Masaryk had proclaimed Czechoslovakia's adherence to the Marshall plan when it was first announced.

French Troops Make Arrests In Marseille

Arrest 82 And Hold 1,000 For Questioning As Result Of Disorders

TROOPS ORDERED TO UNLOAD SHIPS (BULLETIN)

MARSEILLE, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Communist-led strikes in Marseille spread to Sete and Nice today after mass arrests were carried out in the nation's second city.

French authorities warned meanwhile that troops will be used tomorrow to unload perishables from strike-bound ships.

MARSEILLE, Nov. 15.—(INS)—French troops and police swooped down on Communist militants today in strike-bound Marseille, arrested 82 and held one thousand for questioning for possible connection with riotous disorders.

(A BBC report heard by NBC said Communists occupied the Le Havre City hall and police and troops have been mobilized about the building.)

Order Troops To Unload Ships
The French government took the offensive against the Communist-directed strike of 100,000 Marseille workers and ordered troops to unload ships in the port. Spokesmen for the confederation of labor declared ominously that unloading operations by the 15,000 troops and mobile guards concentrated in Marseille will be opposed.

The Communists increased their agitation for a general strike although industries in France's second city already were virtually crippled.

Authorities feared a small spark might again plunge the city into a repetition of this week's bloodshed.

Vandalism Reported
Numerous incidents of vandalism were reported throughout the city. A number of trucks carrying raw materials and merchandise were stopped and overturned.

Michel Carlini, the De Gaulle mayor who was mauled by the Communists and evicted from City hall, was temporarily in hiding because of fear for his life.

From the home of a friend he issued a proclamation to the "mourning population of Marseille" using "confidence in public institutions."

Two companions of State Security police were dissolved on order of the French cabinet as a disciplinary measure for failing to deal with Wednesday's rioting.

The officers were suspended without pay. The companies reportedly filled with Communists.

Extra Sessions Called By U. N.

(BULLETIN)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Nov. 15.—(INS)—The United Nations General Assembly was called into extra Sunday and Monday sessions today to assure 1947 adjournment within ten days.

President Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil also ruled that the U. N. political committee continue simultaneous meetings at Lake Success whenever the plenary at Flushing Meadows is not occupied with a problem previously discussed by it.

The Palestine committee is awaiting completion of the U. S.-Russian compromise scheme on partition before beginning day and night sessions.

Announce Casts For College Plays

Two One-Act Plays To Be Presented At Westminster College

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 15.—The cast of the two one-act plays, "Hugo In A Hurry" and "Dust Of The Road", to be presented to the Westminster student body within the next two weeks, was announced today by Donald L. Barbe, head of the speech department at Westminster College.

"Hugo In A Hurry", a farce, will be presented at the New Bedford Grange hall, December 2, and will also be taken to Deshon hospital, Butler, Pa., at a later date. The cast is headed by Jack Winter, as Hugo; Eugene DeCaprio, Sparks; Marilyn Reeves, Mrs. Butler; C. J. Smith, Mrs. Hale; Jeanne Lewis, Letty; and Lew Shirey, Mr. Butler.

"Dust Of The Road", a Christmas play, will be presented in the Castleton hotel ballroom for the D. A. R. December 6. The cast of this play includes Frank Ruth, as Peter; Betty Ann Etter, as Prudence; Maryanne Rehn, as the Old Woman; and Dave Flaminio, as the Tramp.

Both plays will be presented with centralized staging, with the audience on all four sides of the stage. This is an innovation for the Little Theater group at Westminster.

Sleet And Rain Slow Travel In Parts Of State

(By International News Service)

Sleet mixed with rain covered Western Pennsylvania today and slowed highway travel to a snail's pace.

The Weather Bureau in Pittsburgh reported nearly two inches of sleet and snow fell in the Allegheny mountains near Altoona. Brief flurries were seen in the vicinity of Pittsburgh and Meadville.

The Pittsburgh Automobile Club reported snow and slippery conditions, particularly in the mountain areas.

Their report included: Slush and snow from Donegal to the Harrisburg end of the turnpike; sleet and freezing on Route 30 in the Ligonier Mountains; plowing on Route 53 in Somerset county; and snow and slush near Ebensburg on Route 22.

New rioting broke out in several cities as the cabinet, incensed at a Communist hint that the commotion may be a prelude to civil war, held a 13-hour session to plan new security measures.

Defying government warnings against violence, Communist militants assaulted and destroyed three more Conservative party headquarters, bringing the total to nearly 200.

In all the demonstrations, the Communist slogans demanded the dissolution of the Italian social movement and the common man party as alleged Fascist organizations.

clined to favor Europe for 1948, although U. S. Representative Warren R. Austin recently stated that he would vote with the majority.

Sentiment among the 1,000 delegates for and against Europe has swung back and forth in past weeks. The overwhelming majority has been careful to point out consistently, however, that there can be no question of transferring UN from U. S. to Europe.

In presenting his case, France's Alexander Parodi stressed that same point but explained that the motivating desire of holding the 1948 General Assembly in Europe was "to spread interest in the United Nations abroad."

The desert metropolis of Phoenix, Ariz., was started in 1868 as a stage coach stop. Two years later, in 1870, the townsite was formally laid out, and in 1881 the new community was incorporated.

CONGRESS LEADERS ARE CONVERGING ON WASHINGTON

dent Truman will address a joint session at 1:30 p. m. EST on foreign aid and high prices.

To Reach Decision

A decision on whether emergency aid shall be rushed through the House or time taken to set up a government corporation to handle emergency aid is expected to be reached within the next few days.

Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which is holding public hearings on stopgap aid to France, Italy and Austria, favored authorizing the state department to handle the funds in line with Marshall's recommendation.

Marshall last Monday told a joint meeting of the House and Senate committees on foreign affairs that "the urgency of the situation is so great that I recommend that no new agency be set up to handle this interim program."

He said that "the time required to organize such an agency, to hire personnel and establish new procedures would defeat its very purpose."

Must Speed Program

Marshall maintained that "whatever agency might be created to administer the long term European recovery program could, of course, take over the operation of interim aid as soon as it comes into existence."

Because of the short time available—Congress must complete its work before Christmas—this course may have to be followed.

However, a House Republican leader said he favored setting up a government corporation, which would be separate from the state department, to handle stopgap aid.

The corporation would "screen" foreign requests for aid with Congress waiting for its report before taking further action on long-range appropriations for European aid.

Full Amount Unlikely

The GOP chiefman expressed the view that while some stopgap aid would certainly be voted at the special session, it was unlikely that the House would approve the full $597 million dollars requested by the president to tide Italy, France and Austria over the winter. Funds for Europe will originate in the House.

Should the House leadership decide to set up immediately an independent agency to handle interim aid, a determination will then have to be made on whether to send the legislation to the House Banking and Currency Committee, which normally handles corporate matters, or to the foreign affairs committee.

Tighten Export Rules On Atomic Bomb Materials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The Atomic Energy commission acted today to strengthen controls governing export of fissionable materials, emphasizing that the move was in the interest of national security.

Under a new regulation, effective November 20, a specific license issued by the AEC will be required for manufacture for export of any facilities for the production of fissionable material.

A license also must be obtained to transfer or acquire such facilities for export, or for actual shipment of such materials from the United States.

Required By Act

Commission spokesmen said the new ruling is not connected with recent reports that Soviet Russia has conducted atomic bomb tests. They pointed out that a tightening of export controls is required by the Atomic Energy Act.

This regulation will provide more rigid control over export of two specific classes of equipment. These are:

1. Any facility capable of producing any fissionable material—for example, nuclear reactors, cyclotrons, or other particle accelerators.
2. Component parts or equipment suitable for service in connection with fissionable material—such as radiation detection equipment, mass spectrometers, and high vacuum equipment.

The regulation incorporates a provision for general licensing of all manufacture, transfer and acquisition of such equipment within the United States.

Navy Working On Ship Propulsion By Atomic Energy

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Admiral William H. P. Blandy, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet and head of last year's atomic bomb experiments at Bikini, revealed today that the navy is "working steadily" on ship propulsion by atomic energy.

He said the navy's bureau of ships has a special section trying to harness the new force to give the fleet vast cruising range.

Blandy told the annual dinner of the Society of Navy Architects and Marine Engineers that "the navy's interest in atomic energy is not confined to defense against atomic weapons". He said:

"Atomic power plants will find a hearty welcome waiting them aboard ships of the fleet."

"Though we can replenish fuel at sea, the process is time consuming and exposes the ships engaged to increased danger from submarine and surface attack."

"Our own submarines, moreover, with atomic power drive will be freed from the present necessity to return too frequently to the surface for charging batteries. With atomic drive, oxygen will be needed only for the crew."

He ridiculed ideas that a war can be won in 24 hours by atomic attack.

summoned to Moscow to confer with top Soviet politicians. Masaryk telephoned Prague and ordered an announcement that Czechoslovakia would not back the plan.

However, Masaryk does not stand alone among the states of eastern Europe who would like to join the benefits of the plan—without joining the plan itself.

Reported Hopeful

Only the day before Masaryk's call on Marshall, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Stanoje Simic conferred for an hour with the cabinet member.

He, too, reported himself hopeful that with the Marshall plan in effect trade between eastern and western Europe could be built up to its pre-war importance.

Simic said, however, that Yugoslavia's immediate interest is to regain $56,000,000 worth of Yugoslav assets frozen by the U. S. treasury when the Germans invaded his country.

Earlier, Poland indicated that it, too, would like to take part in trade with the west.

Hint Sabotage In Rocket Plant Blast In Britain

AYLESBURY, England, Nov. 15.—The possibility that sabotage may have caused the explosion at Britain's rocket experimental station at Westcott was explored today by high-ranking investigators.

Three persons were killed in the explosion, including Dr. Johannes Schmidt, 44, German rocket bomb expert who made V-bombs for the Nazis during the war. Twelve persons were injured.

Several of Britain's leading scientists were at Westcott investigating the explosion.

Security measures were tightened up and armed police were ordered to patrol the several miles of security fencing encircling the station.

Anyone stopping on the road paralleling the station was immediately challenged.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Frediani, 1008 Maryland avenue, have been called to Chicago, by the death of Mr. Frediani's uncle, Bruno Frediani, of that city, who died suddenly Thursday. Funeral services were held this morning.

The Bride Was Lovely, As Brides Always Are

In shimmering white satin and a long veil, brides are always lovely. But we have noticed that their flowers are an important part of their ensemble.

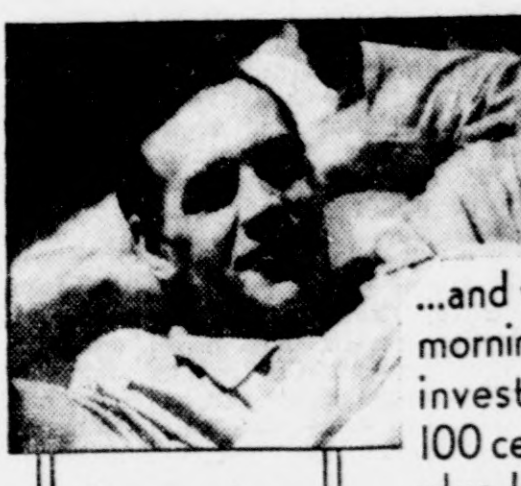

That's why we have specialized in bridal bouquets. Such bouquets are more than just bouquets with us. They represent a lovely bride, her hopes and ambitions, a happy future. All of these we can see in a bridal bouquet. That's why we take pains with them.

Society AND Clubs

WADDING-ARMSTRONG WEDDING TONIGHT

This evening at 7:30 o'clock the First Methodist church will be the scene of the wedding of Miss Jean Wadding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wadding, of Wilmington avenue, and Robert P. Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Armstrong, of 1001 Beckford street. Open church will be observed.

Miss Wadding has been feted at a number of pre-nuptial showers since the announcement of her engagement, one of the most recent being a miscellaneous shower given for her by Miss Helen Barrett, of Park avenue, on Thursday evening. Personnel of the Claire Brown Showpe were guests.

Tables of bridge were in play during the evening and the guest of honor received a shower of lovely gifts.

UNITED NATIONS PROGRAM PLANNED

A program centering about the work and structure of the United Nations will be presented at the meeting Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the International Relations department of Woman's club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. William Cosel, 215 North Jefferson street.

Mrs. C. M. England will talk on "Basic Facts of the U.N." Mrs. Alec Samuels on the "Structure of U.N." and "A Day At the United Nations" will be Mrs. Cosel's subject.

The program offers an opportunity to become informed on the workings and functions of U.N. and is open to all members of Woman's club who have been extended an invitation to attend.

HOUSEWARMING FOR HAPPY HOUR MEMBER

Members of the Happy Hour club motored to Youngstown Friday evening where they were entertained for a tureen dinner and housewarming in the new home of one of their members, Miss Melba Davenport. A splendid lunch was served on a table decorated with fall flowers, and having Thanksgiving favors.

Committee in charge was Mrs. Georgia Hurst, Mrs. Robert Dailey, Mrs. Edward Beahm and Mrs. Roy Wilson. Members present from out of the city were Mrs. J. A. Hunter of Niles and Mrs. Fred Kelly of Youngstown, O.

Next regular meeting falling on Thanksgiving Day will be held on November 28 in the Y. W. C. A. at 1:30 p. m.

L. A. B. MEMBERS DINNER GUESTS

L. A. B. club met in the home of Mrs. Lucy Covert, Youngstown road, for a chicken dinner at 6 o'clock Thursday evening when Mrs. J. W. Sweet's birthday was celebrated.

Covers were laid for 13 guests at a table centered by a three-tiered birthday cake and afterward the guest of honor was tendered a shower of hankies.

Games and 500 were in play during the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Anna McElmonds and Mrs. Katherine Vaughn. The former and Mrs. Effie Cunningham assisted the hostess.

In three weeks on December 4 the club will meet in the home of Mrs. David Jones, 124 North Walnut street.

On the social committee for the evening are Mrs. Harold Dunlap, Mrs. Frances N. Dinsmore, Mrs. Francis J. Doran, Miss Veronica Fratz and Sister Annunziata.

SOROSIS DRILL

PROGRAM FRIDAY

Sorosis club members met Friday in the home of Mrs. Louis H. Gordon, 218 East Leasure avenue, with Mrs. John Emery, vice president, presiding.

A current event was given in response to roll call. Parliamentary drill on "Do's and Don'ts for Presidents" was ably led by Mrs. Roy A. Long. After stressing the importance of the "do's" she commented on the errors likely to be made by a presiding officer and emphasized the necessity of a president's memorizing the constitution and by-laws of the organization.

Mrs. Roy Jamison read an informative paper on "Time" as a vital factor in our lives and described the earliest phases of time beginning with the cave man's method for measuring it and the various ingenious ways in use from 140 B. C. to the timepieces of today.

Next meeting will be November 28 in the home of Mrs. Roy A. Long, 516 Neshannock boulevard.

Choir To Rehearse

Regular weekly rehearsal of the Music club chorus in preparation for the presentation of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" in mid-December, will take place Monday evening at 7:45 in the Y. W. C. A.

Notice of a special rehearsal for basses and tenors preceding the regular rehearsal has been sent out by Mrs. C. W. Cameron, secretary of the chorus.

Membership in the chorus is open to all singers in the community who wish to take part in the oratorio and those who attend are asked to take along a copy of the music.

GLEANERS CLASS PROGRAM ENJOYED

An excellent attendance was noted at the meeting of the Gleaners class of the First Baptist church, held Thursday evening in the dining room of the church.

Mrs. Trevor Griffiths, president, opened the session at 8 o'clock, and leading in the devotionals was Mrs. G. Francis Mitchell. A short business meeting followed, after which an interesting program was presented.

Mrs. Owen Penfield Fox, class reporter, gave a discussion on current events of today, which are of vital importance to the people in America. She later delighted the audience with the recitation of a humorous poem.

A dainty lunch was served later by the committee, the table being nicely appointed in green and yellow with the Thanksgiving motif predominating. Corn shocks and miniature pumpkins marked the places.

The committee included Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Olive Barbour and Mrs. Charlotte Donley, the latter also in charge of the decorations.

On Wednesday, December 10, the class will gather at the residence of Mrs. G. Francis Mitchell, North Jefferson street.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

Communist-inspired riots and strikes in the French Mediterranean seaport city of Marseilles carried dangerous forebodings of what Europe may expect this winter.

The stage seems fully set for many months of disorder upon the continent unless some miracle brings about a speedy solution of Europe's most grievous ills.

It is perhaps frequently forgotten that a mere date line upon a news or radio dispatch does not connote the same thing today that it did before the war.

Case In Point

Marseilles is a case in point. There is perhaps a tendency to regard Marseilles as it always has been, an ancient sprawling port, founded by the Greeks in 600 B. C., with traditional squalor and filth abounding close to architectural glories and its great harbor a veritable beehive of maritime industry.

This, however, overlooks the fact that the Nazis wrecked as much as they could of Marseilles' waterfront before they scuttled out in 1945 and that little if any repair work has been done since.

Amidst such conditions—and Marseilles is just one of thousands of European cities wholly or partially ruined during the war—riots and demonstrations at drop of a hat come to be regarded as commonplace.

Blessing In Disguise? There were some idealists who were inclined to look upon the German destruction at Marseilles as a blessing in disguise.

True, it wiped out some of the world's worst slums and saloons where no man was safe without a stiletto in his sleeve and a pistol on his hip.

True, the city fathers of the great harbor metropolis saw visions of a fine modern system of piers and buildings to be constructed on the ruins.

But nowhere in Europe has reconstruction been able to proceed to any great degree. And this applies even to London, where the authorities were ruthless in pulling down damaged structures to make way for new ones and where there now is little in the way of ruins—merely boarded-up open spaces.

The area of Marseilles that the Germans destroyed in an effort to

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Stanley Genetti, of Hazelton, Pa., visited me this morning.

He is the fellow who owns that milk ranch I wrote about some time ago, and, although he appreciated the publicity, I certainly put his foot in it with that story.

He has about enough minks for ten or twelve coats out on his ranch. It takes approximately 80 skins to make one coat, so you have to have a thousand animals for ten coats, because some of them die and others get sick and some are not quite good enough for use.

But, after the story ran in the Hazelton paper, pretty nearly the whole town thought that Stanley was the fellow who supply the majority of the local wives with mink coats for the winter.

They phoned and they stopped him whenever he came to one of his nine stores and many wrote from other towns, too.

So, to get away from it all for a while, Stanley came to New York and looked me up.

We had lunch together and I asked him to what particular thing he attributed his success. (He is a son of immigrants from the Tyrol who came to this country practically penniless. Today he and his brothers are among the most prosperous people in Hazelton, own farms, mink ranches, super markets, bakeries, restaurants and all kinds of real estate.)

Stanley had his answer all ready. "You have to have some brains, of course," he said. "You have to work hard and watch your opportunities. You have to give all your attention to your business and not scatter your resources."

Pretty good formula, I thought. But Stanley wasn't through. "However, there are two things that are the most important of all," he said.

"What are they?" I asked. "To have the right kind of parents and the right kind of a wife."

And then he told me how his father and mother had taught him the value of money and of time. They had shown him that honesty is one of the best investments a person can make, and they had trusted him implicitly.

"I started in my father's store early," he said. "He didn't pay me a cent of salary until I was twenty-one. But whenever I needed any money I had the right to go to the cash register and take what I needed."

"He trusted me and he knew I wouldn't kill his trust in me."

About the wife? Well, Stanley and his wife are partners. Not in business but in everything else. They love each other, they have confidence in each other, they help each other—and they are happy.

I asked Stanley what he thinks could be done to get the world back into shape. "Follow the Golden Rule," Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Hints On Etiquette

To attract a waiter's attention in a public dining room, look at him until he sees you, then lift your chin beckoning for him to come. If he is within easy hearing, say, "Please, waiter." If you can attract his attention in no other way, clap your hands.

One of the sights of the Kremlin, Moscow, Russia, is the tower of Ivan the Great, 322 feet high and crowned by a gilt dome. It contains 34 bells, weighing altogether about 580,000 pounds.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

We all live a very nice life . . . when we're hungry we eat . . . either at restaurant, lunch counter, soda fountain or at home. We sit around in comfortable homes . . . our family making life cheery by their chatter and laughter. We entertain friends . . . and it's always nice to have a snack at night after an evening of cards or friendly visiting. What do you do when the children say they are hungry before going to bed? . . . Simple the way you take care of that problem . . . you go to the refrigerator . . . take out a bottle of sweet clean milk . . . find a cookie in the cookie jar and there you are.

Milk . . . yes the price is up . . . but we all use a lot of it regardless . . . good clean milk . . . almost everyone likes a nice cold glass of milk at night during the day . . . Mighty fine for a snack of sweet rolls, dagwood sandwich or the like . . . But what we are meaning is this . . . Not all peoples of the world are as fortunate as we are here in the U. S. That's why at the present time, the SOS Relief Committee of New Castle is making an effort to obtain money for use in Europe. The money collected now will be used to buy powdered milk which will be sent to the unfortunate children "over there". In addition to money for dried milk . . . Clothing and canned foods are being collected . . . This past week many fine garments and consignments of food have been collected from the fine peoples of this city. Others have contributed cash for the dried milk portion of the program . . . There is still time for donations . . . we guarantee that every cent you contribute will be used for the purpose stated above.

The benefit football game of last evening turned out as sort of a surprise for hundreds of fans . . . The odds were that Ellwood City would take the game without much trouble . . . When the game was over and the score tied . . . Some people just couldn't seem to realize that it was so . . . A very fine crowd of fans witnessed the game and now have the satisfaction of knowing they had their money's worth and besides contributed to the fund to send the band away Thanksgiving Day.

Great Game Of Politics

First Step Up To Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. THE special session of Congress called for the dual purpose of checking inflation and appropriating funds, under the Marshall plan, to keep western Europe from collapse will convene Monday. It requires considerable optimism to be cheerful over the prospect.

BETWEEN Capitol and White House, the confusion of thought is almost equaled by the bitterness of feeling. Even before Mr. Truman's message and proposals are revealed, unless there is a remarkable change in mind and heart, there will be little of the nonpartisan co-operation—particularly on domestic affairs—so essential to sound, swift and effective action. This is exceedingly unfortunate but none the less true. Nor can the blame fairly be placed all on one side.

THE President is entirely right in linking increasing prices with foreign aid. For it is too clear to dispute that as prices rise dollars depreciate. Inevitably, this will render inadequate every proposed appropriation for every purpose—but especially disastrous will be the inadequacy of those for foreign relief. Most Republicans as well as Democrats agree on this. Where they disagree is upon the reasons—and remedies—for the inflationary prices. For example, the Republicans believe Mr. Truman started the upward spiral by his indefensible encouragement to the higher wage demands of 1945 and 1946, which resulted in a costly series of dislocating strikes. On the other hand, the President, and his party spokesmen, contend the whole business is the fault of the Republicans, who killed his price-control proposals.

AS TO remedies, the gap between President and opposition party is even greater. The latter is convinced that tax reduction along the lines vetoed by Mr. Truman last summer is necessary to continued industrial health and employment. But the Administration attitude is not only strong against tax reduction but inclined the other way. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder insists that the foreign relief bill must come out of "current revenue," which clearly is impossible unless more revenue is provided through more taxes. And Mr. Marriner Eccles, head of the Federal Reserve, openly advocates a restoration of the corporation excess-profits tax to the complete abolition of which (by the Democratic Congress in 1946) Mr. B. M. Baruch—and a good many others—were strongly opposed.

THUS, there seems here an irreconcilable conflict, with Mr. Truman and the labor bosses, who since his Taft-Hartley bill veto are lined up with him politically, holding the Republican record in the last session against us and the Republicans firmly insisting that Mr. Truman's economic policies are unsound and political. Admittedly this is a bad state of affairs and no concrete suggestion for improvement has been advanced. The 1948 presidential campaign being less than eight months off naturally causes each side to be suspicious politically of the other—and the suspicions of both are certainly justified.

THE appalling thing about all this is that upon the wisdom and speed with which we act depends not only the safety and well being of our own people but literally the lives of millions of men and women abroad. It is hard to exaggerate the gravity of the crisis. If ever there was a time for parties and politicians to rise above partisanship and personalities this would appear the time. If one or the other of these clashing forces does not develop enough bigness to reach the level of unselfish patriotism there is not a great deal of hope. The first step toward this level would seem up to Mr. Truman. Perhaps he will take it. Certainly, it would be an advance if in his realistic approach to the vital question of inflation, it would, in fact, be rather thrilling if he could bring himself to state clearly and unequivocally two things that every intelligent man knows. The first of these is that there can be no real control of prices without wage control. The second is that one of the main causes for the higher cost of food is the Government policy of farm subsidies and guarantees which artificially support food prices.

THE first position unquestionably would be offensive to the labor politicians with whom he is now linked and who even now are busy planning new wage demands; the second would stir resentment among the powerful farm organizations, which exert great weight in both branches of Congress. Nevertheless, if, faced with so great an emergency, Mr. Truman should deal candidly and courageously with these two fundamental facts, which nearly every politician publicly evades though privately admitting, the response from the rest of the country might well be overwhelming. It would be an exhibition of fearless patriotism such as we have not had in a long time. It easily might turn out the best possible politics, too. At any rate, with the Democratic President showing that kind of bravery and bigness, the Republican leaders in Congress hardly could fail to co-operate. Should they fail, they would stand convicted of a singularly despicable kind of partisanship. Also, they would assume a very great responsibility.

Work appears to have no friend. It gives us all we spend: Warmth against the winter's cold; Ease and comfort when we're old; All the various wanted things; Motor cars and diamond rings; Flowers to grace a loved one's bier; Freedom from both want and fear; Food and raiment; books to read; Vine and tree and garden seed; Pride and honor; childhood's toys; Schools to teach our girls and boys. And it puzzles me to know Why so many hate it so.

Some Ideas Are Suggested

By PAUL GALLICO

It is probably no more than a coincidence that twenty-four hours after a couple of crates of homeless and inuendo-laden chickens were deposited on the doorstep of Harry Truman and Charley Luckman in Washington, Chicken-less Thursday was called off by the Citizens Food Committee and the Department of Agriculture, but you can't help getting ideas from it.

I have, for instance, a trunk full of old manuscripts complicating my economic life and I am wondering to whom I could send them in Washington since the same line is applicable. I can't eat 'em and I can't sell 'em.

An Enchanting Idea

The sending of the chickens was an enchanting idea, and, if nothing else, testifies to the prodigious wealth of this country that its poultrymen can stuff a couple of hundred live cracklers in a crate and ship them off a half-again, half-profit, without ever feeling the loss. It also makes you wonder a little about the current price of chicken which is not quite so funny, and who is having the laugh on whom?

However, at the moment, I am inclined to love the poultrymen for their originality. A similar idea was never hatched out of the egg of the intellect of man than the one to save grain by not eating chickens so that more of them would remain alive to eat up more of the grain supply. I can also think of no deadlier weapon than a crate of live chickens orphaned on your doorstep. You cannot ignore them and you cannot live with them.

Idea For Texans

Now, if a group of philanthropic Texans will only get together and arrange to ship a couple of box-cars stuffed with live Longhorns or Baldfaceds to Washington, we may get rid of that other statistical fraud, meatless Tuesday, and get down to a real program of saving wheat, chiefly, I would imagine, by not eating and wasting so much of it ourselves.

This may call for a new kind of campaign of truth-telling about the actual value of boxed breakfast foods and the re-education of the young with a minimum of disillusionment.

I am sure there must already exist a suspicion in our off-spring that the faithful devourer of the morning dish of sawdust shavings, crispy-crunty goodness, does not always hit that home run with the bases load 1 or win the Junior G-men badge for capturing the bank banks. Sometimes he strikes out, and frequently, as demonstrated in the late world series, humiliate and in public. I have not followed the recent advertising campaigns of the breakfast foods manufacturers, but I am certain they have not managed to provide for all contingencies. They can sign up the champion pitcher to swear that each morning he engulfs his bowl of Oven Toasted Grainies, but sooner or later he will get his ears pinned back in the second inning and embark on that long and degrading march to the showers.

Implant Suspicion

That is the moment to implant the seeds of suspicion in Junior's mind. You don't have to break up an expensive advertising campaign, but you can hint that there is such a thing as making a pig of yourself and eating too many crispy crunchies and let on that what really caused the Great Man's downfall was that he fouled for capturing the bank banks with too darn much breakfast food.

If we can needle our young into, say, two revolutions a week where they will believe, "Nah, I don't want any Creepies this morning. I ain't gonna eat 'em," and let them get away with it, we will already be halfway towards providing the necessary grain for the conservation program.

NEW YORK—John M. Hancock, former U. S. delegate to the UN atomic energy commission, denying Russia has an A-bomb: "We know beyond dispute it's a lie. The Soviets would like us to tell them at what amount a chain reaction sets in. If they found out it might save a lot of lives in experiment."

NEW YORK—Walter P. Messek, head of firm towing the old battleship New Mexico to Newark, N. J., scrap yard, in reply to announcement that Newark fireboats will try to block its way: "The New Mexico is going through and those little boats better run for cover."

BUBBLE GUM

Boys and girls like to blow bubbles. They think it is big fun. Bubble gum is a recent invention. It seems to be very popular.

Like everything else, it has its drawbacks. It sticks to tables and chairs and faces. It messes things up a little. It drops to the floor and sticks to people's shoes. Some people do not like to have it on their shoes.

Perhaps it will go out of style some day. It is not a sanitary procedure to stick gum on tables and lunch counters and dishes. Sometimes a kid gets pretty dirty after a boy has been working on it. Of him. Some boys seem to have nine lives like a cat.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime : BY H. T. WEBSTER

"GOLD CURE" NO SOLUTION TO PROBLEM

Now that Congress will soon be discussing the problem of European relief, we can expect a multiplicity of new schemes for "rescuing" Europe. One already made, especially by some British financiers, is that we give Europe the "gold cure". They suggest that if sizable sums of our gold, bought at more than market value, were turned over to them their problems would soon become much easier of solution.

Needless to say, this remedy has not been greeted with any great enthusiasm in the United States. It is quite evident that Europe needs something more than a "gold cure." If we shipped them some of our supply, they could neither eat it nor use it for fuel. It would soon be shipped back to the United States for the purchase of our wheat, meat, coal, steel and other commodities. There would be no alleviation of the short supply in our own country; the situation would only be worse.

What Europeans seem to forget is that we have a real domestic supply problem on hand. This is no land of milk and honey which can continue indefinitely to pour its produce into Europe while the people in the nations across the sea are refusing to speed up their own production.

What these countries must learn is that there is no short cut to prosperity and that even Santa Claus can finally run out of gifts. That all of them have not realized this is evidenced by the childish proposal that we turn over some of our gold supply to them. Perhaps it is because they still believe in these Santa Claus theories that thousands of coal miners can strike in Britain in a time of coal shortage and Italian farm workers have the temerity to lay down their tools in the face of a serious food shortage.

The sooner the ledaers across the sea can come to realize that it is their duty to put their own houses in order and, forgetting politics, will drive the facts home to their people, the sooner conditions will improve. As the Alexander Hamilton Institute recently admonished:

"The real solution of the European problem is increased output in each country, better cooperation among the nations of Europe, and reliance on the United States to supply only that which is absolutely needed and cannot be produced at home. Rich as the United States is, it does not have an inexhaustible supply of goods. As a matter of fact, the sharp upward trend of prices in this country is already testifying to the fact that many articles of consumption are short even now in the United States."

DEDICATION DAY

By act of Congress passed in 1946, in which November 19 is designated in the nation's calendar of special days as Dedication Day, the people are requested to see that Lincoln's Gettysburg address is read in the schools and to other assemblies on November 19, the eighty-fourth anniversary of the dedication of the Gettysburg cemetery.

The campaign to create more interest in the great address, and in the political philosophy which it reflects, was carried through to success by the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, an organization of officers of the Union Army and their male descendants.

During the eighty-four years since Lincoln delivered the speech it has steadily grown in the esteem of free peoples until today it stands among the great orations of all time. It should be graven in the heart of every American, and this occasion for honoring the speech and its author should command the attention of all patriots.

RUSSIA'S 'ATOMIC BOMB'

Maybe the Russians have an atomic bomb. Maybe they haven't. It's a roundabout story—from Irkutsk to Prague to Paris and thence over the world. It is not material at the moment whether the Soviet scientists have perfected the A-bomb or not. Sooner or later Russia or some country will perfect atomic bombs.

But if any persons in the United States are counting upon our atomic bombs to keep Russia in check or bring her to terms, they are wrong. If the Kremlin dictators harbor schemes of changing from a cold war to an atomic war, they are tragically in error.

There can be no possible doubt, in Moscow or Washington or anywhere else, that an atomic conflict would bring about such awful destruction on both sides that neither could win; probably neither would survive.

Even if we preserve a monopoly of atomic bomb "know how" for a long time to come, the United States must not count upon it. We should intensify our efforts to remove the atomic menace from world affairs and seek to prevail against Soviet expansionism on the peaceful basis of justice and fairness.

Apparently there is to be another year after this one, judging by the array of calendars now appearing.

Many public dinners are being called off because of the high price of food, with an incidental saving of wear and tear on oratory.

The World and the Mud Puddles

SECRET DIPLOMACY

One episode in former Secretary of State Byrnes' "Frankly Speaking" memoirs illustrates the extent of the one-man secret diplomacy practiced by the late President Roosevelt. In his account of the deal made by the American President at Yalta, under which Russia was handed over to the Kuriles, the Japanese half of Sakhalin, a free hand in Manchuria and occupation of half of Korea, Mr. Byrnes says: "The agreement as to the Kuriles Islands was reached in private conversations among the Big Three, instead of at the conference table, and the protocols, including this one, were signed on February 11th. When the President returned he did not mention it to me and the protocol was kept locked in his safe at the White House."

Confidential Man

Mr. Byrnes was not then Secretary of State, but was generally described as "assistant President" and occupied the position of confidential right-hand man to the executive. Nevertheless, he knew nothing about the commitments to Russia. He says that it was some time after he succeeded Mr. Stettinius in the State Department that a "news story from Moscow caused me to inquire and learn the full agreement." He adds significantly: "I wanted to know how many IOU's were outstanding."

Although the former Secretary undertakes to justify the secrecy phase of the agreement as necessary from the military standpoint, he can hardly justify the presumption of the President of the United States in such free-handed giving without consulting at least the heads of the foreign relations committees of Congress, or even confiding in his most intimate advisers. It will be recalled that even after General Marshall had taken over the State Department he was seriously embarrassed at Moscow when Molotov out of clear sky informed him that Mr. Roosevelt had agreed that Russia, in addition to all the industrial equipment in the Soviet Zone of occupation should receive ten billion dollars in reparations.

The secret deal with Russia in regard to Manchuria and Korea, of course, was in direct violation of agreements with China and Korea. The betrayal of Korea was particularly unfortunate, as the people of this nation, after years of Japanese domination, were confident of receiving full self-government with the defeat of Japan. The betrayal of China is primarily responsible for the present divisions and prolonged civil war in that country, as the Chinese Reds undoubtedly are receiving Soviet concessions at Port Arthur and Dairen.

Whether or not Mr. Byrnes has discovered any more IOU's outstanding, he does not state. Enough are outstanding now to keep us in an international muddle for many years.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

child proves able to restrain himself and make himself do what he knows he should do. Withdrawal of controls either too slowly, or too rapidly, can be harmful.

A strong temptation of parents who have been able to control the child well while he is very young is to continue to control him far more than is necessary long past the time when he, in many situations, can control himself well. Perhaps this is just what happened in your case—with many inevitable irritations between you and your parents. Perhaps they used corporal punishment on you after you entered school, when they should have found effective substitutes at so late an age. What is necessary is a good balance of affection and restraint, each enhancing the other. Certainly there should be far more expressions of genuine affection in the home, at all ages of the child, than usually obtains.

Catholic Welfare Conference To Meet

There will be a meeting of the Catholic Welfare Conference of Lawrence county, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock in St. Joseph's church.

Rev. J. A. Gaiser To Speak On 'Vitamin R'

How is your health? This is the question that Rev. James A. Gaiser will ask at the evening service Sunday, November 16, at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor of First Methodist church will speak on the theme "Vitamin R". In this day, when so many new and wonderful drugs have been offered to the needs of the people, it is well to give consideration to the wonderful Vitamin R.

More people have found relief from this great vitamin than from any other known prescription. Both medical doctors and ministers work hand in hand in the administration of Vitamin R.

At the time of the first census in the United States, 1840, only 40 percent of the people were literate.

Rev. Edmand Dinant Will Speak At Youth For Christ Tonight

First Baptist Church Scene Of Weekly Youth Rally Again This Evening At 8 O'Clock

Another in the weekly series of Youth for Christ meetings will take place this evening at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist church, North and East streets where a program designed especially for youth will be presented. Rev. Edmand Dinant, of Bible School Park, N. Y., will be the speaker.

Rev. Dinant has been holding a series of revival services at the Grace Bible church, East New Castle.

As soloist this evening Rev. Howard Sartell, director of the local youth movement will be heard. Rev. Sartell will sing two selections on the program. The Youth for Christ Ensemble directed by Miss Mary Aiken will also be presented in special music. At the piano will be Rose Bender.

Next week, Frank Olson, government investigator and former O.S.S. man of Cleveland, Ohio, will speak to the young people.

Dr. G. S. Bennett To Speak On U. N.

First Christian Pastor To Give Impressions Of United Nations Sessions

Dr. G. S. Bennett will speak Tuesday evening, November 18, at 8 o'clock in the First Christian church at a meeting which will be open to members of all denominations. Dr. Bennett, minister of that congregation, recently returned from attending sessions of the United Nations at Flushing Meadows, N. Y.

Dr. Bennett has chosen "The United Nations and the Church" as his theme. Many people do not realize what the United Nations is trying to do. The First Christian church leader will show the possibilities of what church people may do in promoting world peace. No offering will be taken at Tuesday's assembly.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

IN THE OPEN

We stood on a wooded hillside and watched the blazing beauty of the November skies wheel overhead as the night wore on toward midnight. An intermittent breeze, which had been toying with the idea of turning into a steady gale, roared through the trees on the ridges and sent gusty spates of fallen leaves whirling about in the upper reaches of the timberland. Scattered about far across the valley could be seen the friendly night lights around the homes of the farmer folk, safely snug abed while we shivered out there on that lonely hillside.

Some two hours earlier we had banked the log fire in the cabin and had set out afire on a wide circling course through the dark countryside. Carbide cap lights and assorted electric torches enabled easy going through the thickets. We climbed one long slope and worked down the other side through heavy woodland. Aside from a single roosting grouse kicked up by one of our group, we encountered no excitement other than the monotonous business of climbing fence after fence, each one usually with a top strand of vicious barbed wire.

Raccoon Is Freed
We halted for a breather in the open woods on the hillside, one hollow removed from the valley road. Here the roar of the breeze was muted by the rise behind us. Suddenly the big coon dog "Tan" spoke gruffly from some where out there in the darkness. After an exploratory moment came the deep tongueing of the lanky "Queen" and we knew that first quarry of the night had been started.

The chase was short but musical and soon both dogs were announcing to their midnight surroundings that they had routed and treed a ring-tailed raccoon. We worked our way down across the hillside and came out at the tree, a large white oak. Spotlights picked out the blazing eyes of two young coons, but out on the same limb and both glaring balefully down at the singing dogs.

R. W. CLASS MEETS

The R. W. class of the Grace Bible church held its regular monthly business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Courtney Bunney, Albion avenue Thursday evening. Before the meeting, the class attended the revival services in a group.

The meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. Helen Cassella.

Due to the recent illness of the teacher, Mrs. Ruth Watson, the class elected Mrs. George Fissel as its new teacher. It was decided the next meeting would be in the form of a Christmas dinner. A committee of three consisting of Mrs. Helen Craig, Mrs. Ethel Taylor and Mrs. Donna Davis was appointed to find an appropriate place to hold the same. Names were drawn and gifts will be exchanged at the dinner.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Helen Craig and Mrs. Jessie Karki. Miss Janet Karki was the special guest of the evening.

EAST NEW CASTLE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanford of Coudersport, Pa., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Homer Houck, Mrs. Sanford's parents.

Members of the Savannah Methodist church choir were present Thursday night at the Grace Bible church and under the direction of Mrs. Helen Craig presented special music for the evening.

Mrs. Ed Houston and Mrs. Sam Wood were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Lester Woods on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Adeline Feil visited in Pittsburgh recently.

Mrs. Ruth Watson and mother were visitors in Youngstown this week. Mrs. Geneva Lytle had as her houseguest Mr. Dillingham of Indiana, Pa.

EDENBURG

The missionary women of the Christian church held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Alice Park with Mrs. Elizabeth Nickles as leader. At noon lunch was enjoyed and a round-table discussion.

Survey Shows Meat Prices Are Lower

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—(INS)—A survey today showed a decline in meat prices from 10 to 35 per cent in Pittsburgh.

Independent and chain stores and packing houses disclosed that the present price level is expected to prevail until about the first of the year.

The survey showed that small hams dropped from 73 to 55 cents a pound, pork loin, rib ends, tumbled from 61 cents to 45 cents and ground beef from 45 to 29 cents.

Retailers and wholesalers alike said the drop was due to a heavy run of beef and cattle and shoppers continuing hunt for bargains. They said meatless Tuesdays have helped cut the demand.

The battle of Gettysburg came to a close on the eve of Independence Day, 1863.

Manufacturers Of Syrup Open Attack On State Tax Law

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The Dauphin County court was asked today by nine syrup manufacturers to enjoin the commonwealth from enforcing the new soft drinks tax law which they claimed violated state and federal constitutions.

They sought to have the act invalidated on grounds that it taxed interstate commerce in violation of congress' powers to regulate trade between states, ran counter to the state's constitutional requirements for a uniform tax on the same class of subjects, skirted provisions that only one subject could be covered in one act.

The law imposed a tax of one cent on each 12 ounces of bottled soft drinks and a half cent an ounce on syrups designed for use in soft drinks exclusively.

A bill in equity filed in the prothonotary's office yesterday further alleged the levy based on "quantity alone" was "not fairly, adequately or reasonably" determined since the volume of drinks produced and the ultimate value varied with syrup types.

Boys Seeking To Recover Watch 'Lost' At Game Here

City police and two young men are hopeful for the finding of a $145 ladies Bulova watch with two diamonds in the case, which was "lost" during the football game at Taggart stadium, last night. If it is not found, two young men must pay for it.

According to a report to police, Miss Esther D'Alosio, 517 Fountain avenue, Ellwood City, was in the "stands" as was Vinicio Frances, 513 Friendship street and Mont Smith, Walmo, R. D. 3.

They sat next to each other and during the game Frances, figuring on staging a joke, unclasped the watch from Miss D'Alosio's wrist, then passed it to his comrade, Smith, according to the police.

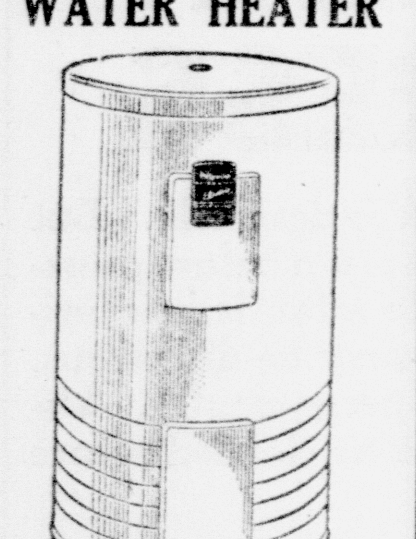

Smith passed on the watch, believing he was handing it to a "friend" but it turned out differently, and when they tried to recover the watch, it could not be found.

Police Chief Robert D. Hanna today gave the two boys a week in which to advise for the recovery of the watch. However, if it is not found within a week they must pay the $145.

DIET IMPORTANT FOR GOOD TOOTH FORMATION

Diet is important in building good teeth. Pretty teeth improve a person's appearance and parents can help to see that their children's teeth are straight, hard, and in good condition.

A newborn child has his baby teeth formed in the gums ready to come through at the proper time. The permanent teeth, too, are partly formed in the gums of the baby at birth. A small or improperly formed jaw bone will affect the way the teeth come through. Because of this early formation of the teeth, it is easy to see the importance of the mother's diet. The good food habits formed during the childhood will help her to choose a good diet during pregnancy.

Teeth and bones are made up largely of calcium and the best source of calcium is milk. Another important food element for good teeth and bone building is vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Fish liver oils, such as cod, are rich in vitamin D. Calcium is not used by the body to build teeth and bones unless vitamin D is present.

Observations of tooth decay in older children indicate that diet plays an important part. Some authorities have found that decay has been retarded when green vegetables, fruits, and milk replaced a large portion of the sugars and starches in children's diets. Vitamin C abundant in citrus fruits, tomatoes, and raw fruits and vegetables, such as cabbage; promotes healthy gums.

At an early age the child can be taught to clean his teeth properly, and regular brushing should become a part of his daily routine.

CLEAN AND STORE SPRAYING EQUIPMENT

Now that the spraying season is over, do not neglect care of the spraying equipment because of the rush of other work. Preparation of spraying and irrigation equipment for freezing weather must be done promptly if damage is to be avoided.

All sprayers used for weed control should be cleaned thoroughly before they are stored for the winter. After cleaning be sure to drain the pump and tank. If is a new unit, consult the instruction book.

THIRTY MILLION DOLLARS BUYS A LOT OF CEMENT

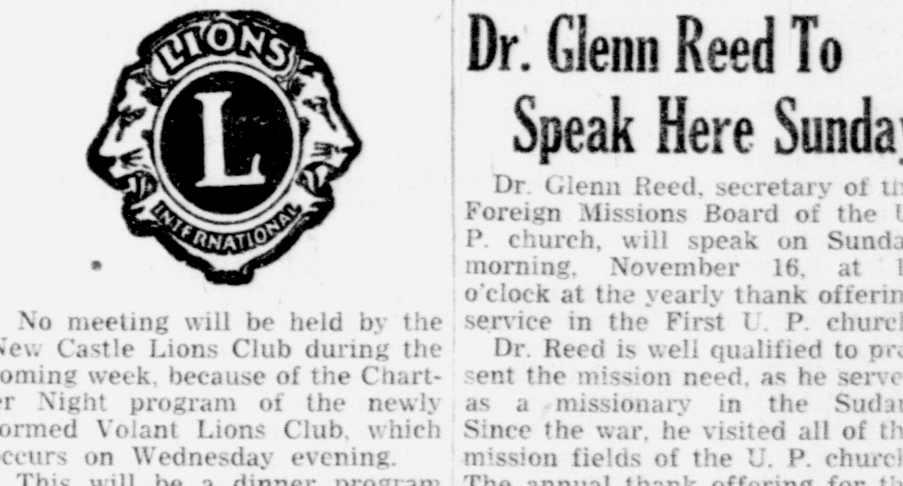

That much money would buy a lot of anything, even at the current, inflated prices. Shoes or ships or sealing wax, or mashed potatoes. But this thirty million dollars is buying cement.

Picture, if you can, how much cement thirty millions would buy, and that picture is what the truck industry paid for in taxes last year in Pennsylvania. Not all of it went for cement of course, there were other charges in highway building, engineering, transportation, concrete mixing, but it was still thirty million dollars worth, all of it taxes and all of it paid by the motor trucking industry in Pennsylvania.

Sgt. Bradford Is Buried On Friday

First Of City's Heroes To Return From European Theater Is Accorded Homage

Funeral services for Sgt. David R. Bradford, son of Mrs. Mary Bradford of 507 Leasure avenue, the first of this city's war dead to be returned from the European Theater and who was killed in action on January 24, 1945 while serving with the 26th Infantry in Belgium, were conducted on Friday afternoon from the Joseph B. Leyde Funeral Home.

The services, in charge of Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U.P. and Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, were largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends.

The pallbearers, members of the young men's Bible class which he attended at the First Presbyterian church, all of whom were in the service, were Joseph C. Jenkins, Jr., Albert G. Genkinger, Jr., William Ramsey, Alan Barnett, Russell Meade, and Howard M. Snyder.

When the body arrived here Thursday morning, it was met at the station by a group of former fellow employees at the Pennsylvania Power Company, who were veterans of the late war. They included: A. E. Walker, Ben Johnson, Vincent Wadlinger, Wayne Stover, Alfred Lewis, Paul Papenhause, Ed. Fritz, Jr., Ed. Aiken and John McIlvenny.

Pfc. Jack Bechtel and Cpl. Tom Robinson, served as guard of honor at the funeral home, and at the grave, accompanying S-Sgt. James Storey, who came here with the body, representing the U. S. Army. At the grave, in Castle View Burial Park, military services were conducted by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, burial escort, commanded by A. E. Walker, with Andrew E. Harcar, in command of the firing squad. Charles E. Allen served as chaplain, and delivered a short eulogy to the departed comrade.

William Glitch and Paul L. Rowland, Jr., served as color bearers, with Don Crowl and Robert Ferrell, color guards. The firing squad was composed of P. Dale Johnston, William R. Anderson, Albert Russo, Wayne E. Backes, Morton Love, and Frank Chirumbolo. Harley Shoaff, 2nd, was bugler, assisted by Joseph Colalucia of the Senior high school.

Cosmic Ray Finder Now Seeking New Radiation Source

Dr. Victor F. Hess, Nobel Prize Winner, Testing Granite Deposit For Radiation

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Dr. Victor F. Hess, awarded a Nobel prize for discovery of the cosmic ray, today was on the trail of a new, mysterious radiation oozing from most of the rocks of the earth.

Dr. Hess, Fordham University physicist, disclosed that some of the university's experiments were carried on in an especially built laboratory in the Forty-Tyrom Park Independent Subway station, 100 feet below the street.

In Granite Slabs
The Fordham scientists found that there was a "surplus" of radiation coming from slabs of granite from Quincy, Mass., which contained some uranium, thorium and potassium, all of which have a certain amount of natural radiation.

Hess said: "It must be concluded that a hitherto unknown penetrating radiation is given off by granite. This radiation is gamma radiation—the most penetrating of all, and part of the radiation emitted when an atomic bomb is exploded."

Hess said he believes all rocks of the earth which contain uranium, thorium and potassium are emitting the "mysterious" radiation. He is a veteran in cosmic radiation, having discovered in 1912 that a type of radiation bombards the earth in all directions. He was awarded the Nobel prize in 1936.

Dropping Bombs From Fast Planes May Be Problem

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The U. S. Air Force admitted today that while it has flown bombs faster than 500 miles an hour, there is no assurance that bombs can be dropped from them successfully.

Two new medium bombers, the North American B-45 and the Consolidated Vultee B-46 are the latest and fastest heavy planes flown by the air force, and probably the fastest bombers in the world.

Both have passed initial flight tests, the B-46 recently flew from Tinker field, Okla., to Wright Field, Ohio, at a speed of 533 miles per hour, far surpassing previous bomber speeds.

But to date no efforts have been made to drop missiles, and no date has been set for such testing. The air force frankly expects trouble when bombing tests start, and everything possible is being done to meet the difficulties when they arise.

DAVID LEWIS

A resident of the city of New Castle since 1899, David Lewis, Long avenue barber, has made his tonsorial establishment a landmark on the South Side of the community.

Starting as an apprentice with Sam West in August of '99, Mr. Lewis has always operated his own shop or worked within a block of his present location on the street.

He was born in Brynmanor, Wales, in 1882, and came to the United States with his family in 1898, locating in Cleveland.

His father moved the family to New Castle the following year when the Shenango tin plate works started and it was then that young David began his barbering as a youth of 17.

Shop Is Mecca
Mr. Lewis' shop is a mecca for hundreds of acquaintances who stop to chat with him daily as they have for many years. His friends on the South Side of the city are myriad as he has worked and watched the community grow with the years.

He is married to Sarah Lewis, who came to the U. S. from Staffordshire, England, and is the father of two boys, David, Jr., a structural engineer in Ambridge, Pa., and Norman, a doctor in Canton, O. Both are veterans of the late war. He has one grandchild, Elizabeth.

Directs Choir
True to the tradition of the Welsh, Mr. Lewis owns a fine tenor voice and still leads its tones to group singing. For the past 17 years he has been the director of the choir at the Central Christian church.

He is also a member of the True

Six Duffle Bags Are Given Out

The six duffle bags received at county Sunday school headquarters have been given out in connection with the overseas relief campaign being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association.

Two duffle bags were given to Rev. Paul E. Aley for the Wesley Methodist Sunday school, one for Willis Kneram for the Unity Baptist Sunday school of Harlansburg that has already sent in a filled duffle bag, one for Mrs. Anna Robinson for the Willing Workers class of the King's Chapel Methodist church that has already sent in a filled duffle bag, one to Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, teacher of the J. O. Y. class of the First Baptist Sunday school which, when filled, will be their sixth duffle bag to be sent in, and one to Mrs. Frances F. Seley for her class at the Shenango U. P. Sunday school.

Ten additional duffle bags have been ordered and four of these are promised, three to the Ethel M. Hurst class of the First Baptist Sunday school that has already sent in five filled duffle bags, and one for Mrs. W. Anderson for Section 2 of the missionary society of the First Christian church.

Missionary Women To Meet Wednesday

A. A. Shaffer Makes Long Auto
Trip; Other News Of New Wilmington

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Frank Sewall, North Market street, will entertain the Women's Missionary society of the Neshannock Presbyterian church at 2 p.m. Wednesday at her home.

Mrs. T. I. Fulmer will be in charge of decorations. The mission study topic, "Southern Mountains and the Ozarks" will be discussed by Mrs. Alan B. Davis while "Siam" will be presented by Mrs. George Chapin.

Students of the high school will present a Thanksgiving program at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at the Methodist church. Mrs. N. A. Mack, supervisor of school music, will have charge of the program.

A. A. Shaffer, 129 South Market street, has arrived at Petersburg, Fla., to spend the winter months with his son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shaffer. Mr. Shaffer is 83 years of age and drove to Petersburg in five days. He reported that he had a highly enjoyable trip and was not the least bit tired.

Mrs. M. C. McClain, Atlanta, Ga., is the guest of her son, Robert Drumm, Vine street.

Mrs. Clara Weber has returned after an extended visit with her son, Robert and family of Perry, O., and her daughter, Mrs. Wesley Maurer and family of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mrs. James L. Ridge and son James of McKeesport, are visiting Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Byers, West Neshannock avenue.

C.I.O.-United Auto Workers Signing Affidavits Now

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Leaders of the CIO-United Auto Workers Union are signing non-Communist affidavits today as the first follow-up to the 11th annual convention which voted President Walter P. Reuther undisputed union control.

A convention mandate instructing the four top officers to comply with the Taft-Hartley law was among the unbroken string of victories scored by Reuther during the week-long meeting which established unity of the union leadership for the first time in its history.

The affidavits are required before the National Labor Relations board in Washington can complete action in 135 pending UAW cases and handle future petitions from the 900,000-member organization.

STARLINGS BOTHER LANCASTER BOARD

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 15.—(INS)—Lancaster county commissioners girded today for another bout with starlings defacing the newly painted courthouse.

After losing the first round when shiny aluminum owls strategically mounted failed to do the trick, commissioners decided to use aerial "firecrackers" to drive off the intruders.

Youth Temperance Council Will Meet

Youth Temperance Council of Lawrence county will hold a county wide meeting on Tuesday, November 18, 1947, at 8 p. m. in the New Castle YWCA.

Those having charge of the program will include the Harlansburg Council and the Wayne Council.

Mrs. Wendell Shoemaker will be the speaker. Her topic will be "The Youth Temperance Council, What It Is and What It Does". Young People of high school age interested in the temperance cause will attend.

In West Virginia, Randolph County claims that more rivers originate in their county, or nearby, than in any other place in the world. Streams flow from the high land in practically all directions.

ADVERTISE FOR MEMORIAL

After considering proposals for a war memorial on the court house lawn, the county commissioners have agreed upon a design and will advertise for bids for the construction of a granite shaft, backed by a semi-circular wall of granite upon which the names of the honored dead will be carved.

The Gold Star Mothers were asked by the commissioners to look at drawings submitted and select the one they thought best. Their choice was the drawing submitted by the W. P. Kanuckel and Son of Mt. Vernon, O. They also expressed a preference for rainbow granite.

One other bidder was present
Friday morning and it developed that the Kanuckel Company has the only quarry turning out rainbow granite and they also have the name patented.

NEW TYPES OF
STREET LIGHTS
BEING TESTED

Three new types of street lighting units are being tested on the section of Delaware avenue between Hildwood and Edgewood.
Several manufacturers of street lighting equipment have recently developed new reflector types for use in residential areas and Pennsylvania Power Company has installed the three types in order to determine their efficiency under actual operating conditions.

The lighting units, which utilize the same candle-power bulb as the existing units, are designed to throw a larger part of the light output on the street and sidewalk.
The shade cuts off the light at approximately the sidewalk line and front yards and porches receive less illumination.

No conclusions have been reached in connection with the installation. It was made principally to permit the city council and the public generally to judge whether these units would be more effective in the local street lighting system. The lights were installed on Delaware avenue since this is the only residential street that is long enough to permit a continuous test area.

"WHISKY BILL" WORTLE SELDOM MISSES A LOCAL FOOTBALL GAME

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15.—A reporter wandering around Hollywood these windy days soon discovers the new long skirts aren't concealing anything at all, but even a brimming eye doesn't fill a whole column.

Ingrid Bergman, just re-elected the screen's No. 1 box office star, and the cast of Walter Wanger's super-colossal "Joan," are the only ones who can ignore nature's bluster. Wind machines for two weeks have been working up a more severe storm on their stage than the gusts which have been lifting skirts and dropping eyes.

Ingrid Escapes Cold
Ingrid, incidentally, is the only member of the cast who hasn't had a cold. She figures her suit of armor has protected her from the drafts.

Clark Gable stepped from the stage of "Homecoming," pulled his hat down firmly over one eye and said adieu to M-G-M and work for four months. Clark is guaranteed that much vacation between pictures, but sometime he doesn't know what to do with it. Bing Crosby, who again tops all the male stars as screen attraction, hasn't made any plans to go away when he completes "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" for Paramount.

Donald O'Connor has traded in his roadster with the leopard skin upholstery and acquired a foreign speedster which can be geared up to 145 miles an hour, but Donald isn't thinking of taking the speed laws apart.

Ann Buys New Car
Ann Sothern took time out from Warner's "April Showers" the other day to acquire a Lincoln Continental convertible. Also in the transportation field, Connie Bennett is being taught to fly by her hubby, Col. John Coulter. Jack Carson has bought four horses for his new ranch, all of them guaranteed to be gentle.

Now that his beautiful wife, Patricia Knight, is in New York talking over stage roles, Cornel Wilde is using his spare time from Fox's
"The Walls of Jericho" to paint landscapes. Pretty good, too, I think, but Cornel insists I'm no critic.

Ben Writes Thriller
Ben Hecht, who generally writes rip-snorters, has just turned out his first juvenile story, "The Cat
That Jumped Out of the Window."
"Collaborating" was his four-year-old daughter, Jennie. Jimmy Henderson, an old friend, has just turned out a first novel, "Whirlpool," which has me on the edge of my chair. It would make the kind of a movie Mark Hellinger can do so well.

Barbara Bates has dyed her hair black for her role in Warner's "The Adventures of Don Juan," and sophisticate Clifton Webb has a crew haircut for his role in "Sitting Pretty" at 20th Century-Fox.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—(INS)— Juvenile delinquency will be studied by a special legislative committee selected Friday by Rep.
Jeannette M. Dye (R) Mercer, chairman.

The committee, a division of the fact-finding joint state government commission, will investigate procedures employed by juvenile courts, economic factors, community recreational facilities and liquor traffic relating to minors, she said.

Study of courts will be undertaken by Senators Jacob W. Carr

Maxey Criticises Third Class Cities

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 15. —(INS)—The League of Third Class Cities was at odds today with Chief Justice George W. Maxey of the State Supreme Court over the jurist's criticism of legislation broadening municipal tax bases.

President Walter Greenwood, of Coatesville, told delegates to the 12th annual meeting of municipal finance officers at State College that Maxey had exceeded his legal authority when expressing criticism.

An American armored division in World War II could hurt 400,000 pounds of ammunition in half an hour.

Judge Braham Will Address Jewelers' School Graduates

Class Of 40 Students Will Receive Diplomas At Exercises Set For Monday, Dec. 8

After 18 consecutive months of class room study and practice the first class of 40 students at the New Castle Jewelers' Training School will be presented with diplomas at exercises to be conducted on Monday evening, December 8 at 8 o'clock, at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, 210 Pearson street.

The commencement committee which met Friday afternoon at the Pearson street school building, headquarters of the school, announced that Hon. Judge Walter W. Braham would be the commencement speaker. Members of the graduation class will participate in the exercises, with Rev. J. H. Bood, pastor of the church in which the commencement exercises will be held, pronouncing the invocation. William G. Berger, dean of the school will present the diplomas to the graduates, who come principally from Pennsylvania and Ohio.

The commencement committee is made up of Carl E. Ochenreider, chairman of the committee and treasurer of the school; George Timby, superintendent of the building and laboratory instructor, and Miss Vivian I. Kray.

Already, several members of the graduating class have secured positions in Pittsburgh, Georgia, Florida, Greenville and Youngstown. Requests have been received from industry for 100 graduates while but 40 are graduating.

With requests coming from great distances for students, a system of aptitude tests are now being given at the school, so as to determine the student's ability to make good in various sections of the country.

A large class of students is expected to be enrolled at the school during January, swelling the enrollment past the 400 mark. Following the first graduation exercises, periodically, students will be leaving the school as they complete their 18 months course.

Charge Truman Is Inconsistent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers charged Friday that President Truman is "inconsistent" in appealing for lower prices while simultaneously upholding the right to withhold wheat from the market for a higher price.

The UMW Journal caustically criticized Mr. Truman for saying, after a talk with Tom Campbell, Montana wheat grower, that he didn't blame the grower for not selling his wheat when he thought he could get more for it later.

The Journal declared editorially: "You can write your own ticket on the inconsistency of the President's appeal for lower prices and his moral support of wheat-grower Campbell's right to withhold from market for a higher price the wheat so essentially needed to meet our European needs."

Question Youth In Sweetheart's Death At Mason City, Ia.

Youth Tells Officers That Girl Was Strangled, Found Lying Near Auto

MASON CITY, Ia., Nov. 15.—(INS)—A husky 18-year-old high school senior was questioned by police today in connection with the mysterious strangulation murder of his 16-year-old childhood sweetheart, Arlene Mott.

Under questioning regarding the murder was Charles Ver Helst, a farm youth. Police Chief Harold E. Wolfe and Coroner Ralph E. Smiley said there are several discrepancies in his story of the tragedy.

Found Strangled
The victim, a petite pretty high school junior and schoolmate of Ver Helst, was found strangled Thursday night beside the youth's car which was parked in the alley at the rear of her home.

Police said Ver Helst told them he got out of the car to investigate a noise and was knocked unconscious by a mysterious assailant. The farm youth said he staggered to the girl's home and awakened her brother, Ley Roy Mott, a mail carrier.

Were Engaged
Mott found his sister lying face down near the car. The girl was dead when she arrived at Park Hospital. An autopsy showed she died of strangulation. A silver chain was torn from her neck which was bruised.

Ver Helst and Miss Mott became engaged two months ago. She was preparing a hope chest at the time of the murder.

ACCUSE TWO IN STATE SWINDLE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Two men, one a former adjuster for the State Workmen's Compensation Board, have been indicted on 141 bills returned by the November grand jury in Philadelphia.

The ex-state employee, Irvin R. May, was accused in 138 bills with forgery, two bills with fraudulent conversion of $17,411.48, and one charging conspiracy to cheat and defraud.

His co-defendant on nine of the indictments (eight forgery and one fraudulent conversion) was George Nesenger, a Chestnut Hill automobile dealer.

They are part of a group of people, including other state employees, alleged to have swindled the state out of thousands of dollars in "fake" compensation claims.

Prosecution of the ring is being pressed by Gov. James H. Duff and state police are still checking many past claims of the compensation board seeking if any further fraud exists.

WAMPUM W. S. C. S. SEEKS MAGAZINES
In connection with the paper drive being conducted in Wampum by the Methodist church, W.S.C.S. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week will be devoted to the collection of magazines, it is announced.

Last week a large amount of paper was collected and now magazines are sought. The magazines, securely tied, should be brought to the Methodist church during those days and those unable to come to the church, will have their magazines picked up if a W.S.C.S. member is notified.

Seventh Ward Bible Class Plans Christmas Party

S.C.W. Bible Class Of Mahoningtown Presbyterian Church Elects Officers

Members of the S.C.W. Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church were entertained on Thursday evening, in the home of Mrs. Grant Shaffer, of Second street, with a good attendance. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. L. M. Wilkinson.

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. R. L. Drumheller, the nominating committee presented the following names for officers for the coming year: president, Mrs. R. L. Drumheller; vice-president, Mrs. J. J. Cunningham; treasurer, Mrs. Grant Shaffer; secretary, Mrs. W. C. Patterson; sending cards to the sick, Mrs. A. A. Maud; teacher, Mrs. W. F. Daugherty. The names were received, and the officers duly elected.

Plans were made for a Christmas party on December 11, in the home of Mrs. R. L. Drumheller, with Mrs. W. C. Patterson in charge. Following a social period, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, and her co-hostess, Mrs. E. C. Hurlbert.

M.E.G. Group To Pack Mission Boxes

Members of the M.E.G. auxiliary of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, were entertained on Friday evening, in the home of Mrs. Wade Daugherty of Park avenue. Mrs. Harold Swisher was co-hostess. Mrs. Victor Huff led the devotional exercises.

Mrs. T. Miller was in charge of the business session. Members were urged to bring clothing articles to pack in boxes for Tennessee mission field. It was decided to send again this year, a Christmas box of toys and gifts to a missionary station in South Carolina.

The nominating committee presented the following names for officers of 1948: President, Mrs. Wade Daugherty; first vice president, Mrs. James Miller; second vice president, Mrs. Herman Alexander; secretary, Mrs. E. O. Farver; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford Comstock. Topic of the evening for discussion was "Stewardship", with interesting talks by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Farver.

Following a social period, tasty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Missionary Group At Snyder Home

At the home of Mrs. Howard Snyder of 519 West Clayton street, members of the Women's Missionary society of Madison Avenue Christian church gathered on Thursday evening. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. J. T. Clark.

At the business session, plans were made for Women's Day on Sunday, December 7. Mrs. E. M. Jones is chairlady of arrangements. "Where Winds the Road", was the subject for discussion. Mrs. Clark led in the program, and was assisted in the discussion by Mrs. Earl Ruehle and Mrs. Mae Culbertson.

Mrs. E. M. Jones, Mrs. Stephen Hutnick, Mrs. Culbertson, Mrs. Russell McConnell, and Mrs. J. B. Comstock presented a playlet entitled "Announcement Tea".

A splendid lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hutnick.

Ladies Aid Society Business Meeting

Following the quilting session on Wednesday morning, by the Ladies Aid society of Madison Avenue Christian church, a splendid lunch was served at noon, in the dining room, by hostesses of the day Mrs. I. D. Wagner and Mrs. Kenneth Walter.

There was a business session at 1:30 p.m., Mrs. C. J. Bernhart presiding. The entire group took part in the devotional exercises.

Mrs. C. G. Anderson was re-elected social secretary. The remainder of the officers will be elected at the meeting on December 10. The ladies adjourned to resume quilting.

Next meeting, December 10, at the church. Mrs. Sally Deegan, Mrs. George Huff, and Mrs. Walter McDonald will be hostesses.

CRIBBS CAMPAIGN PROGRESSING NICELY

Encouraging reports are being received of the progress of the campaign at Mahoning Methodist church, for funds toward the Greater Cribbs Home.

A number of members have still to be contacted, and a full report will be given on Sunday, November 23, which will be Victory Sunday throughout the churches of the Erie Methodist Conference.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Miss Ruby Long of Evansville, Ind., formerly of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Harold McCown of Shenango road, and other friends and relatives. She expects to make a stay of two weeks.

Anthony, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Domick of 231 South Liberty street, has been brought home from the Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh, where he underwent an operation, and is getting along nicely.

Optimist Play Well Received

"Dream Girl," Civic Drama Guild Presentation, Makes Hit At Cathedral

"Dream Girl," presented by the Civic Drama Guild of New York and sponsored by the Optimist club of the city, made a hit before a small but appreciative audience last night in the Cathedral.

The sophisticated comedy, written by Elmer Rice and co-starring Gerry Clemes and George Keymas, was fast-paced, witty and as highly polished as a diamond's necklace. This is the first of a series of three plays which will be staged here, the next offering being "Maid In Heaven", scheduled for Jan. 9.

Mike Bowden, Al Garren and Dale Clobus formed the committee that made the first play possible here.

Proceeds from these plays will be used by the Optimists in their boys' work projects in the community.

Union Y-Teens Have Sweater Hop

Proceeds To Be Used In Making Stuffed Children's Toys For Christmas

Approximately 200 attended the Union High, Senior Y-Teen sweater hop, held in the school's gymnasium Friday evening, proceeds to be used for a service project.

The project will be purchasing cloth to make stuffed toys for the children in the Margaret Henry Home and the Y.W.C.A. overseas children.

Colorful crepe paper was used in decorating the gym for last evening's dance, and the arrangements were in charge of the Hi-Y and Y-Teens committees.

Mrs. Wilma Krause, advisor, was aided by the Union High school faculty. Maxine Mateja is the president of the group, and the program chairman was Frances Daugherty.

Reports Jewelry Stolen Thursday

Mrs. Bertha Millivols, who resides on the third floor at 215 East North street, reported to police yesterday that her apartment had been robbed of jewelry November 13.

A diamond ring with a larger stone in the center and two chips, worth $100 was taken as was also a dinner white rhinestone ring and a necklace, holding a cross with a small diamond in it.

STEAL AUTO ACCESSORIES

Harry Cameron, R. D. 8, reported to police last night that someone stole a side mirror and a windshield wiper from his car parked at the Trade school in Terrace avenue.

Do You Make Your TIRES SQUEAL?

Here's a good way to alarm pedestrians. Come to an intersection at high speed, then jam on your brakes at the last minute. If your tires screech, foot traffic will really jump.

But if you don't want to scare the pedestrians, use courtesy. We've found this: courteous drivers are careful drivers. We insure courteous drivers, may we insure you?

A social hour followed. Special guests were Mrs. Barto, Mrs. Mary Dight, and Mrs. Bertha Lutz. The December meeting will be at Mrs. Achaa Brownman's on Wednesday, December 10 at 1:30. Leaders will be Mrs. Martha McCommons, Florence Shaw, Grace Hohmann, Minnie Hetrick, Mary Burns.

Slippery Rock W. C. T. U.

The annual roll call meeting of the Slippery Rock W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Melville Martin, Rose Point, on Thursday evening, November 13.

The meeting was called to order by the president and Mrs. Kelland led in the devotional period. After singing a psalm and scripture reading, all joined in a prayer service of thanksgiving.

The subject of the program was "Safeguarding Our Nation By the Use of Good Literature". Rev. R. A. Blair led the discussion on good books for family and individual reading, emphasizing the fact that the Bible was the best book, and one which we could all profit by reading daily.

Mrs. J. A. McClymonds, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Richeal, Miss Mary Ramsey, Mrs. Martin and Miss Anna Blair took part in the discussion.

Rev. Martin gave a review of the Christian amendment now before the Congress of the United States, giving a brief review of the constitutional convention and the need for our nation to acknowledge Christ.

A business session followed. The group enjoyed a social time and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Margaret Wilson.

Croton W. C. T. U.

Croton W. C. T. U. met Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Croton church for their annual roll call meeting. A delicious tureen dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by the committee, Mrs. Fred Beck, Mrs. C. F. Van Horn and Mrs. Jesse Hinkson. Mrs. Owen Shields opened the meeting with prayer.

Rev. James N. Rainey, the speaker of the evening, gave a splendid temperance address. He said that if people who profess to be Christians would live as Christians and vote as Christians we would have a Christian nation. He also spoke of the importance of total abstinence in sports.

Mrs. Fred Beck, the president, was in charge of the business meeting. Announcement was made of the bi-county institute of Beaver and Lawrence counties to be held in Beaver Falls on November 18.

Mrs. C. F. Van Horn, Mrs. Harley Crowe and Miss Goldie Blaine were appointed to serve refreshments for the L. T. L. roll call party to be held in the Croton church Monday afternoon, November 17, at 4:15 o'clock.

Leslie Employment Service Launched

New Employment Service Licensed To Operate In This City

Residents of Lawrence county and surrounding areas will have the benefit of a new employment service when the Leslie Employment offices open on Monday in the L. S. & T. Bldg. The Leslie service is designed to serve as a contact center in which employment problems can be presented, whether it be an employer in need of help, or an applicant seeking employment.

The service is so arranged as to render private interviews for men and women, also employers who wish to submit requisitions for help. Registrations of persons well qualified in relation to his or her ability and experience will be given every consideration when job openings are presented to the service by employers throughout the area.

Job classifications such as office, technical, clerical, sales, industrial, domestic will be covered in dealing with the employers and the applicant for work.

The manager, W. Earl Leslie, a local man with more than twenty-five years of experience in personnel and employment relations, is well qualified to render the highest type of private employment service for men and women.

The new offices are located in Room 221-222 L. S. & T. Bldg.

Shenango Audience Likes Senior Play

'Aunt Susie Shoots The Works' Presented Friday Night At Shenango School Auditorium

A most appreciative audience witnessed the presentation of "Aunt Susie Shoots The Works," presented Friday evening in the auditorium of the Shenango High school by the senior class.

The three-act play was directed by Miss Leora McCommons of the school faculty with the proceeds being used to buy bleachers for the new football field of the school. Between acts, Miss Leola Rowe directed the school orchestra in playing several numbers.

The story centered around the proverbial bequest of a rich aunt with certain stipulations attached to the terms of the will. The following took part in the production: Deloris Glasser, Nancy Watson, Harriet Walker, Ilma Kukkoila, Reta Nyeum, Carol McCowin, Mary Salamon, Nick Kiriluk, Ed Moyer, Frank Barton and Martin Bayuk.

Wilsons Back From New York City

Wilson, operators of the New Castle Airport, have returned from New York City, where they were the guests of the Stinson division, Consolidated Vultee corporation at the Biltmore hotel, where a luncheon was served and colored pictures of the latest commercial and military aircraft were shown.

Addressees centered around the importance that private personal planes are playing in the lives of business men of this day. It was predicted that the small planes will become as popular as the automobile in 20 years.

One authority claims that the "masterpiece age" of the greatest men of history averaged about 47 years of age.

Trojans-Bears Struggle To Bitter 6-6 Grid Deadlock

Bears Slam Door In Face Of Trojans

The tensest moment of the game last night came when the Wabash Bears staged a bitter goal-line stand in the fourth quarter to thwart the Ellwood Trojans' touchdown bid—a thrust that would have given the game to the invaders.

Quarterback Dale Tillia is shown being dragged down inside the one yard stripe by Barber and Pallarino of the Bears. On the next play Vince Manauzzi was smeared and the locals took over on downs. Other players are Tony Craig (4) of the Bears, and Bob Chesko (36) of the Trojans.

Crowd Of 5,000 Sees Locals Pull Surprise; Lauro Gets Tie Marker

Tillia's Pass To Chesko Gives Invaders First Period Lead In Game; Wabash Line Plays Brilliantly, Halting Trojans Inside One Yard Stripe.

After 60 minutes of grueling football last night at Taggart stadium Ellwood City still found a football victory over New Castle an elusive thing.

An aroused bunch of Bears, rated by many, 13 to 20 point underdogs to the strong Trojan club, yielded a touchdown in the first period and then came back to notch one themselves in the third. They rose to great heights in the final quarter, piling up the Tubers within the one yard stripe, breaking the back of their attack and limiting the game to a two-touchdown affair.

The final score was 6-6, a result that seemed to please rooters of both cities.

No one came away from the game saying that he had not seen a savage, clean and thrilling grid duel—one of the finest staged here this autumn.

Line Stands Out

The Wabash line, which was pierced at times within the 30-yard stripes, tightened like a vise in their "showdown" stands, and the fourth quarter goal line stand battle was one of the most spirited in the history of the stadium.

The Trojans were going for the clincher. Moving from their 47 after Phil Konyak had fallen on a Bear fumble, the invaders punched to the Wabash 33 mostly on pitch-outs from the "T" with Vince Manauzzi, ex-Pitt performer, carrying the mail. Here Dale Tillia whipped a pass to Bob Chesko who ran to the 5 for a first down.

Manauzzi banged the line for a yard. Miller then tried end and made another. Tillia sneaked within the one and with the ball inches away, the Bears fought and surged against Manauzzi who was stopped cold. The Trojan bid had failed.

Score Early In Game

Ellwood showed their best form early in the game. Running the opening kick-off back to their 34, they were off to the races.

The first play lost four but then Manauzzi went off tackle to his 38. Tillia pitched to Presto for a first down on the mid-field stripe. Then it was crisp, hard running, beautifully executed from the "T" that hammered to the 14 and a first and ten. On fourth down with nine to go Nick Sudano swept end to the 2. Three plays gained but a yard, but here the Trojans deserted their ground attack and Tillia flipped to Chesko in the end zone for the TD.

The second period was marred by frequent fumbles by both teams as they exchanged the ball on their bobbles with neither club getting anywhere.

Interception Paves Way

The Bears, midway in the third canto, used an intercepted pass (the only one of the game) to spark their tying touchdown surge. Gilboy picked off a Tillia toss and lateraled to Eddie Jacobs who ran to the Trojan 28. Frankie Adamo was smothered for a nine-yard loss and Gilboy's pass was incomplete and it appeared as though the Bears' deepest penetration was to fizzle.

At this point, however, with the suddenness that marks football, Gilboy heaved a long pass to Chuck Tanner, who kept plowing until he reached the Trojan 4. Armand Lauro fought to 1 and then dived over for the score. Big Mike Roussos, who could have sent the Trojans down to defeat, never had a chance on the point try as the ball was passed low and he had to scoop it up and run. His attempt failed.

Ellwood resorted to everything in the book in the dying moments, using the spread formation, and advancing to the Bear 14 on a reverse, but a penalty nullified the gain. The locals grimly held, fighting hard to salvage the stalemate.

Trojans Have Edge

The Young-coached machine marched for eight first downs to six for the Bears, threw eight passes, completed four and had one picked off. "Blackie" Adamo's eleven tried the airplanes seven times and clicked on two, one the set-up play for the score.

The penalties were negligible, the Trojans being fined 10 yards and the Bears 10. Both clubs played hard, interesting and clean ball, and at no time during the evening

Jake LaMotta Beaten By Fox

"Uncrowned" Middleweight King Steps Into Higher Division And Is Laced

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Jake LaMotta, so-called uncrowned king of the middleweights, had better stick to the 160-pound division in the future.

Joel Jacob, who had claimed he couldn't get any of the middleweights to play with him any longer, invaded the light-heavyweight division at Madison Square Garden last night when he took on Billy Fox, with disastrous results.

Fox, a Philadelphia negro who had registered 49 knockouts in 50 starts as a pro, scored a technical knockout over LaMotta in the fourth round.

The only consolation left to LaMotta is that he still can boast he never has been knocked off his feet. He was wobbling around on Queer street when Referee Frank Fullam stopped the slaughter, but neither of Jake's knees touched the canvas.

Losers Speed

LaMotta sacrificed much of his speed when he built himself all the way up to 167 pounds. Fox weighed 175 3-4.

A sell-out crowd of 18,340, including Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and middleweight titleholder Rocky Graiano, paid $102,528 to witness the return of big-time boxing to the Garden.

The bout had been pegged as "pick-em" affair all week, but yesterday a flood of Fox money made Billy a 5-12 favorite and most bookmakers ruled the bout "off the boards" more than six hours before the fight started.

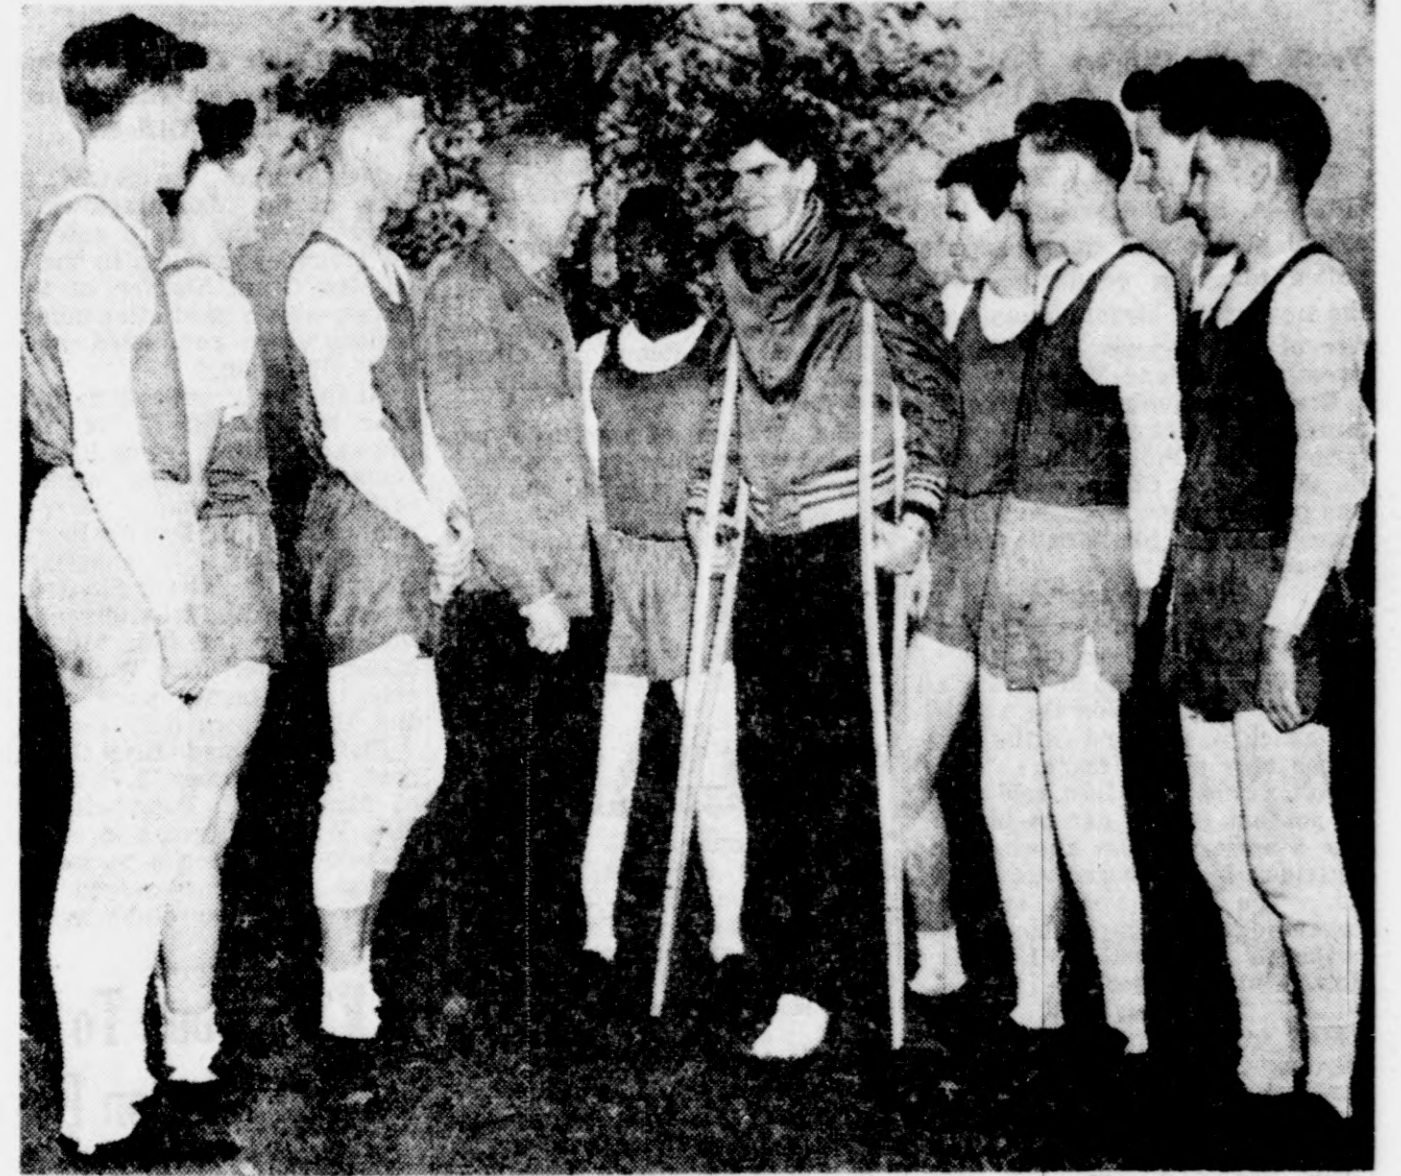

LaMotta, after winning the first round handily in his usual slambang style, fought foolishly thereafter. Fox made Jake's knees buckle in the second heat and then drove the New Yorker all over the ring in the fourth before Referee Fullam stopped with fight, with LaMotta apparently making little effort at defense.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

JIMMY McDONOUGH, Brooklyn, said to be the welterweight champion of the Marines, will box Johnny Green, Buffalo, in a 10 round bout, Thursday night, at Youngstown. McDONOUGH won 59 fights before he met his first fight. Green stopped Henry Jordan of Philadelphia recently in Youngstown. . . . Coon and fox hunters will nominate officers for 1948, in the V. F. W., Post 522, Grant street, at 8 o'clock, Monday night. . . . There'll be a skeet and trap shoot at the LCSA farm, near the Harbor, one week from Tuesday night. . . . Hunting is banned on the Shenango Valley Beagle club training area. . . . Lallo Sabotin of Warren, and Ike Bell of Youngstown, perform their stuff in an amateur main bout here December 3. Sabotin won the first tilt. . . . Bob Hannegan, postmaster-general, has resigned as a member of the St. Louis Browns board of directors, due to the urgency of other business affairs. . . . Twenty-five basketball candidates have reported to Coach Jack Stober at Thiel. . . . The play-off between the winners in the eastern and western divisions of the All-American circuit will be held either in New York or Buffalo, December 14.

Penn State's Bob Higgins has emptied his bench of players in practically every game on the current grid schedule. A rabbit broke its neck when it ran against the leg of Buddy Antini of White Plains. . . . Intensive search is being made at Pymatuning dam in an effort to recover the bodies of John Aber, 45, Clarksville, and Kenneth Huff, 50, West Middlesex, duck hunters who drowned a week ago yesterday. Among them is Donald Kinsell, 26, West Middlesex, who survived after the small boat containing the trio capsized in rough water. . . . Tommy Bell of Youngstown, fights Sugar Ray Robinson, welterweight champion, in Cleveland, January 6. . . . Since Jeff Clanton's three round TKO over Harold Hazlett of Rochester, fans have expressed the opinion they would like to see more of Clanton who demonstrated his class Wednesday night in the Arena. . . . Report is current that Elkins Brothers is due home today for a visit. He lives now in Washington, D. C. If proper arrangements could be made, a Billy Pozza-Elkins Brothers bout would pack 'em in like sardines.

High Harriers At State College Today

New Castle high's champion harriers of the WPIAL are shown grouped around their injured team member, Dick Sampson, who broke his ankle when the locals took the title at Pittsburgh last Saturday.

These eight lads will run today in the big meet at State College, Pa., when the best of District 7 try their stuff against the pick of the east.

Although no school championships will come out of the meet today, the locals can reap plenty of individual glory by posting a District 7 win.

Elks-Titans In Cage Inaugural

Unbeaten College Teams In Danger

Four Of Nation's Top Six Outfits Definitely 'On Spot' Today

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Four of the nation's six top unbeaten and untied college football teams will be definitely on the spot in today's games.

Notre Dame is rated at 24 points over Northwestern and South Methodist is quoted at 18 points over Arkansas. Neither should have any trouble, but Georgia Tech, Penn State, Penn and Michigan face no such easy pickings.

Georgia Tech, in fact, may wind up a slight underdog to improving Alabama. Penn and Penn State, the eastern leaders, may be in for a rough afternoon against the two service academies.

Penn is rated 7½ points over Army, and Penn State is 6½ over Navy.

Wolverines-Badgers

Michigan clashes with Wisconsin in the day's most important game, one that may decide the Big Nine championship and the Mid-West's Rose Bowl representative. Michigan has been installed a 13-point favorite, but does not look two touchdowns better than the Badgers from this corner.

Mississippi State 6½ point underdog to LSU looks like an excellent upset possibility. Princeton, seeking the Big Three title, may trip up Yale, favored by 6 points.

The following teams may win by even greater margins than those quoted in the prevailing point odds:

Brown 7½ points over Harvard; Illinois 14 over Ohio State; Purdue 20 over Pittsburgh; Boston College 3½ over Tennessee; Dartmouth ½ point over Cornell; Minnesota 13 over Iowa; and Columbia 13½ over Holy Cross.

Virginia, rigged at only seven points over West Virginia, probably is the day's best bet.

HORNETS-BISONS

CLASH FOR LEAD

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Hornets will battle the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League in Pittsburgh tonight for the Western division leadership.

The Hornets currently hold top honors with 21 points from nine wins and three ties. Buffalo is just one point behind with nine victories and two ties. The Bisons are deadlocked with Indianapolis for second place.

LEGION WILL WORKOUT

Coach Michael Kulich of the American Legion basketball team has called a practice for the team for Monday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Armory. This year's Legion team will show many new faces, Kulich promises.

Columbia University, conqueror of the Army, has rejected an invitation to play the University of Mississippi at Memphis in the Delta Bowl New Year's Day.

DOUGHTY LASS ON TEXAS ELEVEN AMazes ONLOOKERS

AMARILLO, Tex., Nov. 15.—(INS)—Fifteen hundred Stinnett, Texas, football fans rubbed their eyes in amazement today.

"It" was not a flying saucer, flying disc or Haley's comment. "It" was a female football tackle playing on a male eleven against another male eleven.

"It" was Frankie Growers, 16-year-old, 123 pounder from Stinnett high school—the apple of her team's eye.

The only trouble was that Frankie did not distract the Groom high school Tigers sufficiently enough to prevent them from winning last night's ball game, 14 to 6.

But the lass with the brunette locks is looking forward to next season.

She hopes she will be able to do better. And Stinnett's Ratlers are right proud of Frankie's playing. In awe of tones they declared they were glad to have her on their team.

Cards-Packers In Headline Pro Contest Sunday

(By International News Service)

The Chicago Cardinals, leaders in the western division of the National Football League, face the Green Bay Packers at Chicago in tomorrow's key game on pro grid-iron.

Green Bay is smarting under two tough defeats and may make things interesting for the Cards.

If Chicago's Bear whip the Rams at Los Angeles, as expected, and the Cardinals should lose, the two Windy City elevens would be tied for first place in the western section.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, running one-two in the eastern division are favored over the New York Giants and Boston Yanks, respectively. Detroit entertains Washington.

In the rival All-America conference the Cleveland Browns, western leaders, are expected to take the forty-niners at San Francisco despite their close call against the lowly Brooklyn Dodgers last week.

The improved Dodgers hope to beat Baltimore.

New York's Yankees, eastern division leaders, are strong favorites over the Los Angeles Dons.

Last Night's Fights

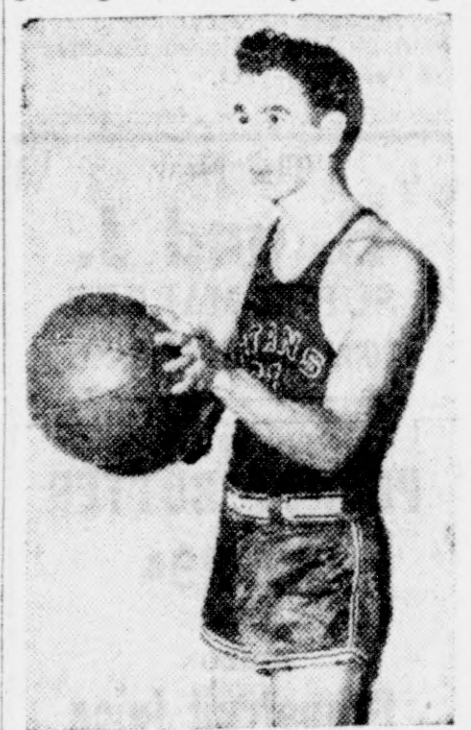

(By International News Service)

New York.—(Madison Square Garden)—Billy Fox, 172½, Philadelphia, TKO'd Jake LaMotta, 167, New York 4th (49). Baltimore.—Al Right, 155, Washington, D. C., outpointed Cyclone Williams, 169, New York (19). Rumford, Me.—Don Sibinaldi, 146, Berlin, N. H., TKO'd Jim Brown, 147, Albany, 7th (10). FANS WILL SEE BATTLE ROYAL HERE TONIGHT

Westminster Believed To Have One Of Strongest Teams In College Ranks

New Castle Elks basketball team is playing the accepted rule backwards tonight, at the Washington High court, having scheduled the Westminster Titans as the opening game of the 1947-48 season. The game gets under way following a preliminary contest at 7:15 o'clock. The main game goes on about 8:15 o'clock.

The Westminster Collegians are playing the Elks Reserves in the preliminary battle.

Generally accepted as one of the strongest college teams in the nation this year, the Titans will unfold their heaviest guns tonight as they battle the Elks made up of local talent. Coach Grover Washbaugh has a "dream lineup" available, being able to field a team of veterans with three years experience together, the delight of any coaching staff.

Lineup Of Stars

Coach Paul Morrison of the Elks will have in his lineup such well known local hardcourt artists as Francis Pitzer, Bob Pitzer, "Huck" McGary, from the Lions Club team of last year, Vince Kelly, formerly with the K. Pulaskis, Eddie "Cash" Koszeia formerly with the Polish Falcons, Bus Strausbaugh, Bus Davis and Don Watters, former high school star and several others. The Elks have held several rehearsals and look good, Morrison says.

Westminster will probably start with the following lineup: Don Heddleston and Bill McLinney at center, and Chet Dembinski and Tom Jones at the guards. Dick Fuhrer is also a possible starter at guard, it is understood. Washbaugh has them "three deep" in this position.

Both Wagner and Snaffier first year men last season looked great, as did this McCullough chap. New Castle fans will pack the Washington High floor for the game it is indicated. There is considerable interest in the lid-lifter here.

Eddie Anderson Resigns At Iowa

(BULLETIN)

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 15.—(INS)—Dr. Eddie Anderson, head football coach at the University of Iowa, handed his resignation to President Virgil M. Hancher early today.

Hancher confirmed he had accepted the resignation and said it would be passed to the board in control of athletics later today. There was some question whether the board would accept the resignation.

Anderson who is under a $12,500 a year contract extending through the 1950 season, said his resignation was effective July 1, 1948. The football coach said that "loose talk" about the state had induced him to take the action.

TITAN BOOTERS DEFEAT GROVERS

Westminster Soccer Team Ends Season With Seven Wins, One Defeat

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 15.—Westminster's sensational soccer team ended its 1947 soccer schedule Friday at the local field, by defeating Grove City 4 to 0 for its seventh win against one defeat for the season.

The Coach Harold Burry Titans are laying claim to the district collegiate soccer championship, and rightfully so.

Paul Scheaffer, captain of the Titans scored one goal, Jerry Hyder scored one and Chuck Elgin scored two of the goals in the rout of the Grovers here yesterday.

The umpire was McFall. This is the last game of the year for Westminster's classy booters.

Patriot Cagers To Drill Monday

Ben Franklin junior high's floor-men, under the coaching eyes of George Massie and Miller Kerr, will open their drills Monday afternoon.

The Patriots, with George Washington, Mahoningtown, Sharon and Ellwood City, will make up Section 15 of the junior WPIAL this season.

Franklin's first league game will be Jan. 13 at Ellwood. A pre-league card is now in the making, with the first game slated against the faculty, Dec. 6.

Steelers After Seventh In Row

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Steelers hope to run their winning streak up to seven games tomorrow when they meet the New York Giants in Pittsburgh. Thirty-six thousand fans are expected to see the game.

The National Football League Eastern division leaders, who set an all-time scoring high record by beating Steve Owens men by a 31-21 margin in the Polo Grounds recently, have only Paul Gornall to watch to cinch the game.

Gornall, former Columbia ace, ranked third last year for passing, proved a soft touch for Jack Sutherland's gang in their previous meeting.

In five football games to date, Bucknell University has recovered 19 of 25 enemy fumbles for a 76.0 average.

Beverage Permit Revocations Are Showing Increase

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—(INS)—A sharp increase in revocations of beverage permits was reported today by the state liquor control board.

A spokesman reported that license revocations in nine months of 1947 were double those for the entire previous year.

Seventy-five permits have been lifted since January 1, he reported. License suspensions showed a smaller increase, with 667 withheld for periods ranging from 10 to 100 days thus far this year, he explained.

F. C. Brennecke, director of enforcement, emphasized that liquor agents could not wage an "intensified campaign against liquor law violators" because of lack of investigators.

"However, our agents are hitting as hard and as often as they can," he declared.

Brennecke pointed out that although liquor violations have increased "the law enforcement division is undermanned."

The LCB's 188 agents must investigate approximately 20,000 licensees, all unlicensed places (speakeasies) and all license applicants, he said. The enforcement bureau's normal complement was more than 200 agents, he added.

Masontown Wins Class B Title

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 15.—(INS)—Masontown today held the WPAL Class B football championship by defeating Chartiers High 18-6 at the Washington high school stadium last night.

It marked their fourth title since 1935. East Deer held the 1946 crown.

Masontown took the lead in the first quarter and held it until the final whistle. They scored in all but their lone touchdown in the last quarter.

CLEMONS PICKED

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—(INS)—Clemson's Tigers, with a record of two wins and five defeats, today ruled the favorites over Duquesne for their intersectional grid battle tonight at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh.

The clash which will conclude the Duke's home schedule will see several Pennsylvanians in the Dixie lineup. Among them are fullback Jim Reynolds from Johnstown, halfbacks Ray Matthews, from McKeesport, center Neil Montone, from Wilkes-Barre, and right guard Farnk Gillespie from Beckley, W. Va.

SEE ILLINOIS OVER BUCKS

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—(INS)—Illinois was favored by 20 points to defeat Ohio State in the 34th consecutive year of their football series today before 75,000 home-comers at Columbus.

The odds, however, failed to consider the wet underfooting which was certain to hamper the Illini passing attack and chain down Perry Moss' pitching arm.

TECH MEETS LEHIGH

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The wireless Carnegie Tech Tartans will oppose the Lehigh Engineers in the annual homecoming game in Pittsburgh today.

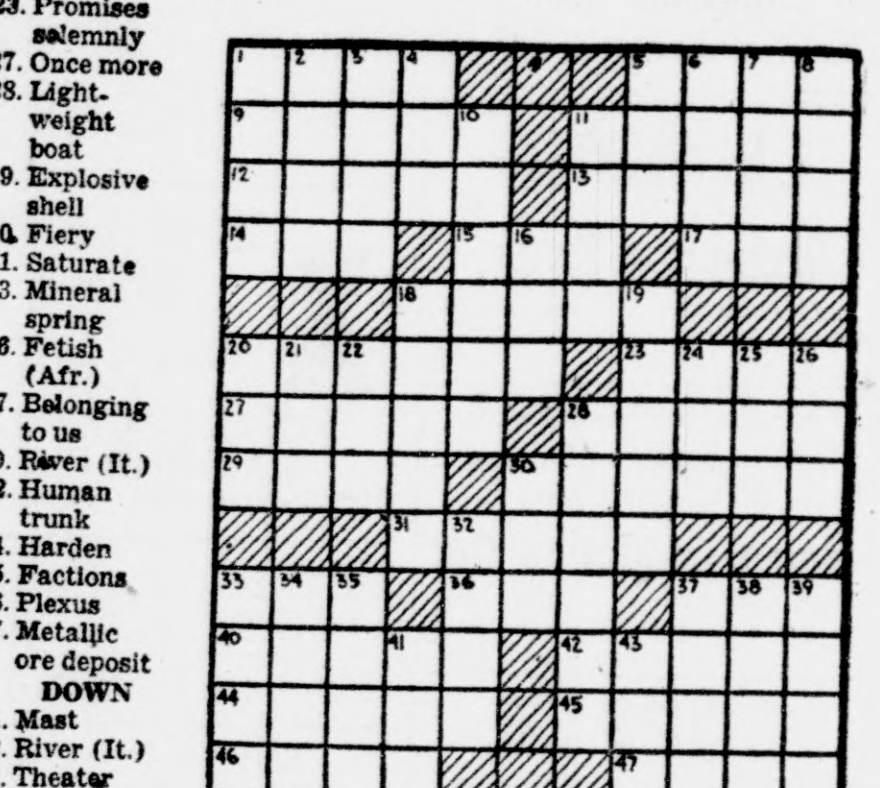

Outweighed all around, Coach Bill Donohoe has hopes that his squad will make a good showing but feared Lehigh's added poundage will spell the fifth defeat for Carnegie for the season.

CALIFORNIA T. WINNER

CALIFORNIA, Pa., Nov. 15.—(INS)—The California State Teachers' Association today won its fifth straight victory in California last night by thumping the Fairmont, W. Va., Teachers 39-12.

UPWARD TREND IN DAY'S MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS)—A smattering of "buy" orders gave the stock market a slight lift in today's abbreviated session.

In typical Saturday trading of around 500,000 shares many stocks held at their previous closing while leaders advanced minor fractions.

Steels and motors edged forward near the close after a steady start. Pacific Western Oil showed one of the few changes of note, rising a point to 55 1/4. Rails ignored the wage increase granted yesterday and drifted in a narrow range throughout.

Interest in coppers, rubbers, amusements and farm implements was at a low ebb. Allegheny preferred added a point to Friday's advance and International Business Machines rose about as much.

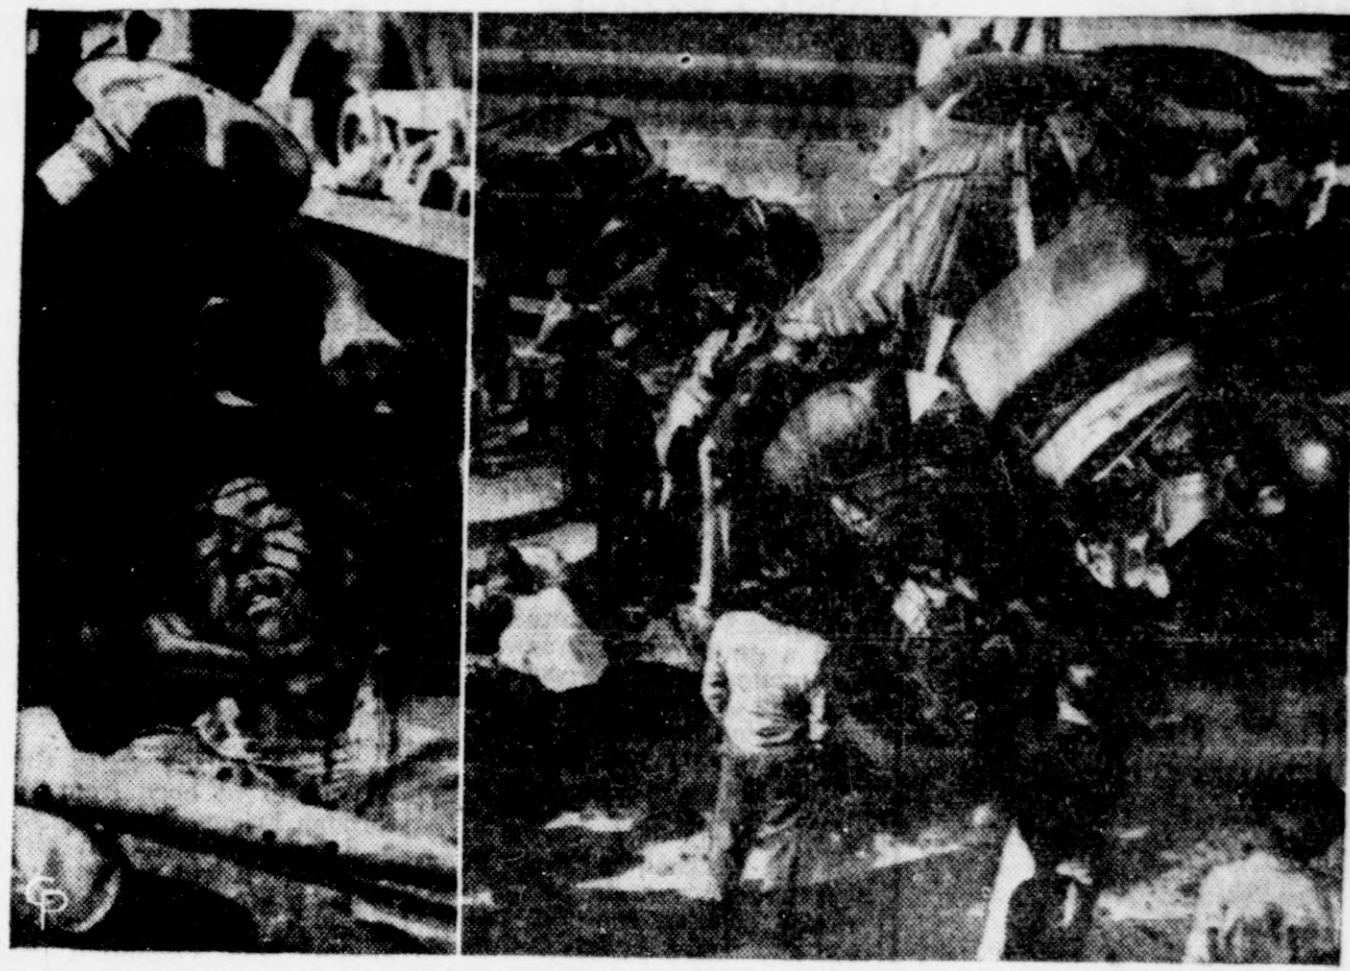

Bonds and curb stocks idled. Cotton was higher.

Remodel College Biology Quarters At Westminster

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 15.—Under the direction of George O. Hollibaugh and Mrs. Nathan Frey of the Westminster college biology department, the laboratories and offices of the department are being remodeled.

A new botany laboratory was recently added to the department facilities. In addition, other labs are being painted and fluorescent lighting is being installed in all labs and offices. New supplies and equipment have been ordered, and supplies already on hand are being reboxed, relabeled, and filed.

Also on order are new exhibits to be used in the classroom lectures. It is the aim of the biology instructors to make the Westminster college biology department one of the best in the district.

State Farmers Are Cooperating In Saving Food

Pennsylvania Council Of Department Agriculture
Outline Grain-Saving
Program

By JACK WARD

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—The Pennsylvania Council of the U. S. Department of Agriculture outlined a grain saving program for the commonwealth's farmers co-operating with the nationwide food conservation project.

The program was prepared in conjunction with the agriculture extension service of Pennsylvania State college.

It was designed to "make President Truman's grain saving program a success, conserve present food and feed supplies, and to encourage farmers to follow sound feeding programs in the future," according to the department.

"World food conditions call for the most efficient use of grain for both food and feed as well as careful management to prevent waste," said Chairman Clyde A. Zehner. "The department of agriculture has been given the principal role of guiding and assisting farmers to save feed."

Grain Saving Methods

The program listed specific grain saving methods farmers may use in feeding poultry, fattening hogs and cattle, dairy production and human consumption.

Culling of low-producers and marketing of heavy animals was recommended as one of the principal methods of conserving grain. Zehner pointed out that "if Pennsylvania hog producers would market their animals just one pound lighter, they would save 24 carloads of grain."

The council recommended that farmers use larger amounts of silage for feed and substitute hay and legumes if possible.

Farmers were urged to market livestock when they reached their most efficient weight.

Recommended peak weights were 1200 pounds for cattle, 290 to 225 pounds for pigs and three pounds for broilers.

Control Of Rats

Control of rats and proper storage of grains were listed as principal grain savers.

Zehner explained that 15 rats could consume and destroy enough grain in one year to support one human for the same length of time.

The council pointed out that homemakers could do much to conserve food "without lowering the nutritional status of their families."

Use of foods which are seasonally plentiful, restricted use of scarce foods, proper storage and good methods of preparation were recommended to housewives.

Zehner said the council's program has been sent to all county agriculture agents who in turn will instruct farmers within their district in the best grain saving methods.

Singers Will Be Heard At Mission

Word has been received here from the Wigdon Gospel Trio of Rome, N. Y., that the dates of their appearance in the city have been changed to November 24 through 27 inclusive instead of as in December as previously announced. The group composed of Lawrence, Gladys and Robert Wigdon, will be heard at the City Rescue Mission, 17 South Mercer street during that period at 7:45 o'clock each evening. They have made a number of appearances in the city.

Headquarters Of Reserve Group Is Transferred Here

M-Sgt. H. A. Wolpert In Charge
Of 823rd Organized Reserve
With New Offices Here

M-Sgt. Howard A. Wolpert, assistant unit instructor, of the 823rd Organized Reserve Composite Group (Mixed), announced today that under the provisions of General Order 159, Headquarters Second Army, the Headquarters of this unit has been transferred to Room 516, Greer Building, 24 North Meyer street, this city.

Officers of the unit from Beaver and Lawrence counties have already received orders, reassigning them to the 823rd Composite Group.

M-Sgt. Wolpert states that the office will be open from Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., excepting on all legal holidays. It will be Mr. Wolpert's duties to assist any officer or enlisted man with information concerning the Organized Reserve Corps.

Those who are unable to come to the office in person are requested to write to the Assistant Unit Instructor, 823rd Organized Reserve Composite Group, (Mixed), 516 Greer Building, New Castle, or they may call 3351.

No Possibility Of Stop-Gap Action By Congress By Dec. 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)

—House Majority Leader Halleck (R) Ind. said Friday he sees no possibility of Congress completing action on stop-gap foreign relief by December 1.

The GOP leader asserted that Congress will "act expeditiously, but we don't intend to rubber-stamp any program advanced by the administration."

Secretary of State Marshall told the House and Senate committees on foreign affairs that in his opinion Italian needs required that Congress vote emergency aid by December 1, although France and Austria could wait a little longer.

Definite Tieup

Halleck also ruled out the possibility of Congress restoring consumer price controls. He told newsmen:

"I can't see any action here that would re-establish consumer prices."

The congressman emphasized that in tackling the two problems for whose consideration the President recalled the House and Senate, it must be realized that there was a definite tie-up between high prices and foreign aid.

Daily Temperature Was Almost
Seven Degrees Above Average
For October Here

October was one of the hottest and driest on record here, the figures of U. S. Weather Observer Baxter F. Johnson, chemist at the City of New Castle Water Co. plant show.

The average temperature was 6.9 degrees per day warmer than usual, and only 75 inches of rain was recorded during the month, just the equivalent of an average good summer rain. The departure from the normal was 2.05 inches.

The mean maximum was 74.6 degrees, the mean minimum, 44 degrees, and the mean or average 59.3 degrees. The highest was 85 degrees on the 15th of the month and the lowest was 28 degrees on the first.

The greatest precipitation in 24-hours was 3.1 inches on October 26th. As a matter of fact, two-thirds of the months rainfall, occurred on the last three days of the month.

Last year, the temperature was 3.2 degrees above normal, but the rainfall was 1.93 inches above normal.

Oppose Pardon For Attorney Noxon

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The State Parole Board, by a two to one vote, opposed the granting of a pardon to John F. Noxon, wealthy socialite Pittsfield attorney, serving a life sentence for the electrocution murder of his abnormal infant son.

The board's vote was announced by Chairman Matthew W. Bullock, who said, S. J. Bradlee of Boston voted against the petition and Harold R. Lundgreen of Worcester voted for it.

A report of the board vote was sent to Gov. Robert F. Bradford. Noxon originally was sentenced to the electric chair. His sentence later was commuted by former Governor Maurice J. Tobin and the executive council to life imprisonment.

Tax Equalization Board Appointed

HARRISBURG, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The three member tax equalization board designed to regulate state school subsidies on a "need" basis was appointed Friday by Gov. James H. Duff.

C. Graybill Diehm, of Lancaster, was named chairman. The other members were Edwin Winner, of Willow Grove, and Walter J. Kress, of Johnstown.

The chairman will receive $10,500 a year under an act passed by the General Assembly this year creating the board while the salaries of the others were fixed at $10,000 each.

Big International Auto Ring Smashed

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation Friday smashed an international automobile ring charged with smuggling stolen cars into Canada during the past 60 days. FBI agents said Detroit and Royal Canadian Mounted Police aided the investigation which led to five arrests.

Detroit FBI Chief Harry O'Connor said members of the ring are known to have stolen at least 10 cars, mostly 1947 models. The cars were taken from Detroit parking lots and driven to Windsor where they sold for prices ranging from $2,000 to $5,000.
